Youth Baseball Season Here Opens With Parades, Fanfare

4 Games Played By Boys in Three Different Places

The summer baseball season got underway in style here Monday night with sparkling ceremonies preceding the opening games of both the Little League and the Babe Ruth League here.

No less than two parades were on tap in two different communities as the curtain was raised on the league seasons. In addition, formal openings were accorded to both the leagues.

In Washington C. H., a parade including both Little and Babe Ruth leaguers, and led by the Junior High School band, drew hundreds of fans onto the streets.

And over in Jeffersonville, another parade—this one for the Babe Ruth League—got the season off to a flying start out there.

Ceremonies were accorded the opening of the two leagues at both of the league contests played here in Washington C. H. Although there were no formal ceremonies in Bloomingburg and Jeff, a certain aura of uniqueness attached itself to the opening games there to give the crowds the feel of the spirit of the occasion.

Municipal Court Judge Max Dice made some opening day remarks at the Wilson Field here before the Little League opener between the Record-Herald Flashes and the Coca-Cola Jets. Judge Dice, who is president of the Little League, told the fans how pleased he was to see the reception that has greeted Little League baseball here.

AN AMERICAN LEGION color guard, under the direction of Legion Post Commander William Marshall, raised the flag over center field at Wilson Park, to the accompaniment of a drum roll by drummers from the Junior High Band.

Ronnie (one pitch) Cornwell, the city Council president, tossed out the first ball at Wilson Field—a special pitch described as a "dippy doodle slow curve change of pace screwball." Joe Peters, the league's site and field chairman, succeeded in catching it anyway.

Over at the public park, Dustin Gorton tossed out the first ball of the Babe Ruth League season with style and aplomb. Gorton is president of the Washington C. H. Lions Club which is sponsoring the league.

Ably doing catching duties for Gorton was Harold Thomas, manager of the Good Hope team. Carl Wilt, the manager of the Insurance Association stood at bat while the

A wild animal was seen near the Robert L. Kneisley home on the Miami Trace Road recently, but the Kneisleys are positive it was not the one reported on the Hidy Road last week. For it was easy to identify the animal as a deer.

It allowed members of the family to approach comparatively close before it moved slowly away and finally disappeared.

It is possible the deer has been seen by many others in the county, because it is not uncommon for the animals to come here from the game preserve in southern Ohio, where they have been increasing for a number of years.

The deer was a doe, and it is possible that there was a fawn hidden in the weeds not far from where she was seen.

It is the first deer reported in the county so far this spring.

BASEBALL OPENING DAY ceremonies were going on all over town Monday night as both the Little League and the Babe Ruth League got their seasons underway. A total of four games were played—three in the Babe Ruth League and one in the Little League. ## British Hand Death Sentence To Cypriot, Deport Cleric

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A 23-year-old Cypriot was sentenced to hang today for shooting at two British airmen.

The defendant, Stelios Mavrommatis, pleaded innocent and presumably will appeal the sentence.

British authorities last May 10 hanged two pro-Greek Cypriots for political shootings in the struggle to end British rule of Cyprus and unite the Mediterranean island with Greece. The pro-Greek Cypriot underground claimed the following day that it had hanged two British soldiers in reprisal for the executions.

Mavrommatis formerly was employed by the Royal Air Force as a clerk. Lawrence Leith and Norman Kitchen, both RAF members, testified at his trial that he was one of three persons who fired at them as they rode bicycles in Nicosia March 15.

They said the shots missed, they fired back, chased the three men and caught Mavrommatis.

Mavrommatis' attorneys argued that he met the other two men accidentally and that the shooting was a surprise to him.

British security forces meanwhile pushed a drive in northwest Cyprus to capture leaders of Eoka, the pro-Greek underground organization.

Macheriotis carried out his duties at the Greek Orthodox church in London yesterday.

Macheriotis was born in Cyprus, lived for a time in Greece and came to Britain about three years ago. His office of archimandrite is approximately equivalent to that of a provost in Western churches.

The Greek Embassy here said it knew of the deportation of Macheriotis, but a spokesman could offer no explanation.

How Would You Tame Speeding Drivers?

How do we tame the speeding driver? The Ohio Department of Highway Safety is looking to the public for ideas on the subject and has asked Ohio's newspapers for an assist in publicizing suggestions from their readers.

"If you have a favorite idea about how to tame the speeding driver, this is your chance to let the world and the culprit in question hear about it," said U. C. Felty, department director. Whether it involves enforcement, engineering, education, legislation or some other means yet untried, it's worth discussion, he said.

The Record-Herald is anxious to do its part in the Safety Department's "Slow Down and Live" campaign which, if adopted by every Ohio motorist, would save hundreds of lives. Just send us your ideas on curbing highway speeding—either by postcard or letter along with your name and address. Outstanding contributions will be printed.

The campaign beginning today, will continue until July 15.

Highway safety experts, Felty said, have determined that the five "in-a-hurry" violations are directly responsible for the majority of 548 lives lost on Ohio streets and highways last summer. These five were listed as: Excessive speed, speed too fast for conditions, improper passing, following too closely, and failure to yield the right-of-way.

On April 25 the Record-Herald carried a sampling of readers' views on weeding out chronic bad drivers. There was no agreement on a foolproof cure-all, but there was ample evidence that Record-Herald readers are doing some careful thinking on traffic problems.

Here's another chance to make your ideas known—this time on highway speed.

How do we tame the wild men of the road? Send your suggestions to the Record-Herald. They will be printed and perhaps yours might save a life. They also will be sent on to the state Highway Department.

'Great Injury' Claimed Ahead If Slash Is OKd

$3.8 Billion Fund Approved By House Said Far Too Little

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration civilian and military leaders urged Senate Republican and Democratic leaders today to restore at least $600 million of the $1.1 billion slashed from the foreign aid bill by the House.

The Senate leaders said after a White House conference that Secretary of State Dulles and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told them "great injury" would be done if $600 million was not added to the $3.8 billion authorization measure passed by the House yesterday.

President Eisenhower scheduled the White House session before he was stricken with his intestinal illness, and it was held despite his absence.

From his hospital bed, Eisenhower sent an oral plea through Sherman Adams, his chief assistant, for the full $4.9 billion he originally asked.

Adams presided at the meeting of the senators with Dulles and Radford.

In Walter Reed Army Hospital, where Eisenhower is recovering from abdominal surgery, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President would not send a written message to the conference.

HAGERTY SAID Adams told the group of Eisenhower's "deep interest" in the foreign aid bill and that "the President feels that the support of NATO has been really undercut" by the fund-slashing in the House.

Republican Senate leaders reportedly have told Eisenhower's aides to pare administration foreign aid below $4.3 billion.

In an unannounced session, the GOP leaders reviewed prospects for Senate action on a $3.8 billion foreign assistance authorization bill passed 273-122 by the House yesterday.

One Republican, who asked not to be named, said Eisenhower's assistants were told they would be lucky if the Senate added half a billion to the House figure.

The President's aides were told firmly, this conference said, that they must justify fully and in detail any proposed increases over the House ceiling.

Even then, the consensus of the GOP leaders was that it would be difficult to obtain any boosts.

John B. Hollister, director of the International Cooperation Administration, said that if the $1 billion cut in military aid funds is allowed to stand, it would "seriously impair programs essential to the defense of the U. S."

Leading Democrats made it clear there will be a move to slash the House amount further in the Senate.

Sen. Long (D-La.), who has sponsored fund-cutting amendments in the past, said he was happy about the House slash and hopes the Senate will make further reductions.

Long is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which will begin voting tomorrow on items in the authorization bill.

Foreign Aid Slash Would Save County Taxpayers $156,203

Fayette County taxpayers would be saved an estimated $156,203 if a $1,109,000,000 slash in foreign aid funds, approved by the House of Representatives Monday, clears the Senate.

This figure is based on statistics compiled by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce which has been urging members of the Ohio delegation to Congress to support the cut recommended by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

In a telegram to the congressmen, Ohio Chamber President Harry W. Arnold points out that even with the reduction, more than $10,500,000,000 is already available in unspent foreign aid funds beginning July 1. This, Arnold said, would appear to be sufficient to continue the program for 2 1/2 years.

Arnold explained that if the

Argentina Revolt Leader Is Captured

Pro-Peron General Held; Firing Squad Hinted As Penalty

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Gen. Juan Jose Valle, sought as a top leader of last weekend's brief but bloody revolt, was reported captured early today.

The newspaper Clarin said it had received information that Valle was taken prisoner and "placed at the disposition of the Army Ministry." Clarin said it did not know whether he had been court-martialed.

Valle and Gen. Raul Tanco, both military bigwigs in the regime of deposed President Juan Peron, were named by the government as the key military leaders in the abortive rebellion. Tanco apparently was still at large.

It was considered likely Valle would face a firing squad, since a high government spokesman said earlier a presidential order commuting 11 death sentences set no precedent for other persons arrested and especially did not extend to Valle and Tanco.

THE SOURCE said the clemency action by Provisional President Pedro Aramburu affected four men in Santa Rosa, the capital of La Pampa province, four non-commissioned officers at Buenos Aires' Campo de Mayo and three men at La Plata. The order came after firing squads had executed 38 military men and civilians as participants in the revolt.

The source said the 11 probably will get life imprisonment.

Military courts meeting in secret sessions now are deliberating the fate of more than 300 persons arrested after the uprising was put down Sunday. Possibly 100 or more persons died in the brief fighting.

Both Valle and Tanco were retired from the army after Peron was overthrown. The government said Valle would have taken over as president if the revolt had succeeded, and it was believed Tanco was to be vice president.

Aramburu said the main body of the rebels was formed of diehard supporters of Peron. But he said the "head operated with the style of action used by the Communists."

Judge Brubaker Asks Special Judge Hear Case

Taxpayers Want School Suit Here Considered in Entirety

Probate Judge Robert L. Brubaker, has disqualified himself from sitting in the taxpayers suit of Sam B. Marting and others against the Board of Education of the Fayette County School District, in which a declaratory judgment is sought. Judge Brubaker has asked Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt to appoint a judge to hear the case.

Another new development in the action filed in the Probate Court here, is the filing of a lengthy memorandum by the taxpayers' attorneys, in reply to two motions filed by defense counsel. Defense had asked that many sections of the taxpayers' petition be stricken out.

In the reply, or memorandum to the motions to strike, counsel for the taxpayers, George, Greek, King and McMahon, by Charles E. Shanklin, contend that defense counsel failed to analyze the nature of the petition filed, insist that the original petition should be let stand as filed so the court will have all of the pleadings upon which to base its declaratory judgment on law.

In asking for another judge to hear the case, Judge Brubaker announced his withdrawal in the belief that it was for the good of all concerned. It is expected that a judge to hear the proceeding will be appointed within a few days, inasmuch as all briefs in the case are to be submitted by June 18.

MARTING and 12 associates, taxpayers, in their original suit filed May 4, seek formation of a Citizens Committee to study the school situation in the county. They claim that the County Board and other boards and their members failed to perform the duties required by law, and that the merger of the Jefferson, Bloomingburg and Paint districts was put through county illegally.

A short time ago five of the six defendant boards filed two motions to strike certain portions from the original petition.

One of these motions was filed by the County Board of Education, its members and W. J. Hilty as superintendent and clerk, and the other motion by the local school district boards, their members, former members and clerk, except the City Board of Education.

The memoranda just filed by taxpayers' attorneys attack the motions to strike certain allegations from their petition it is noted that: "Defense counsel have failed to analyze the nature of this action and for that reason it is well to do so at the very beginning."

"The petition filed by the plaintiffs seeks a declaratory judgment, declaring their rights under the law."

THE MEMORANDUM quotes Section 2721.03, Revised Code of Ohio, as follows:

"Any person interested under a deed, will, written contract, or other writing constituting a contract, or whose rights, status, or other legal relations are affected by a statute, municipal ordinance, contract or franchise, may have determined any question of construction or validity arising under such instrument, statute, ordinance, contract or franchise and obtain a declaration of rights, status, or other legal relations thereunder."

The memoranda further states: "Therefore, in such an action it is not only advisable but it is necessary for the petition to specifically state the statutes to be considered. The plaintiffs are required to

Pennington's Future Plans Still In Doubt

Whether or not the fire wrecked Pennington Bakery plant here will be rebuilt remained a matter of conjecture Tuesday.

An official of the firm, contacted by telephone in Cincinnati this morning, pointed out that the company is faced with a "permanent plan" decision which is still in the formative stage. He did not rule out the possibility that the plant here, gutted by flames Friday night, may be rebuilt, but he added that there could be no further comment at this time.

Howard G. Wright, local manager for Pennington, was out of the city and could not be reached.

An engineer for the company was in Washington C. H. Tuesday checking the possibility of salvaging part of the bakery equipment.

MEANWHILE Pennington is trucking bread in large transports to the loading dock on the east side of the blackened plant where it is being transferred to route trucks for distribution to customers in the 26-county area.

Approximately 60 sales and maintenance personnel are on duty at the Clinton Ave. plant and about 15 other employees have been assigned.

Indiana Bandit Grabs $65,000

SOUTHPORT, Ind. (AP)—A gunman masked with a stocking kidnapped a bank president and his wife from their home early today, held them in the Southport State Bank almost six hours, and escaped with about $65,000 after the vault time lock was released.

The robber escaped in Whalen's 1956 black Oldsmobile.

There'll Be Tears In Irish Beers Now

KENMARE, County Kerry, Ireland (AP)—'Tis a hard thing to have to tell, but Mrs. Beatrice Grosvenor wants to sell Killarney.

There'll be tears in the beers of the Boston Irish and keening by tenors in Timbuctoo but, says Mrs. Grosvenor, what must be must be.

The British tax man wants $196,000 inheritance duty on the family estate. She hates to do it, but the 40-year-old Mrs. Grosvenor has had to put the famous Irish beauty spot on the block to raise the money.

The estate includes properties both in Britain and Ireland. The British are not trying to collect death duties on the Irish property offered for sale.

She will keep about 1,000 acres and will build a new house "something small and simple" on a hill where an earlier Kenmare house burned in 1913.

The mistress of Killarney said she hopes to receive an offer for the property from the Irish government or perhaps "from a wealthy American of Irish descent."

She didn't mention a price, but that tax figure gives some indication.

The Killarney Tourist Development Co. promptly announced it will bid for the scenic area.

"Owing to its importance to the people of Killarney and the nation as a whole," an announcement said, "this company, which is a public one and representative of all local interests, is prepared to undertake the purchase of the property offered for sale."

Blood Donors Needed Here

Recruiting Program Is Moving Slowly

With the year's third call of the Red Cross bloodmobile to Fayette County only two days away now, those in charge of recruiting donors were beginning to get worried.

This was admitted by Mrs. Leonard Korn, the Red Cross chapter's executive secretary, Tuesday morning after she checked the list and found only 25 appointments had been made.

The Leaders Club of the 4-H program is in charge of the recruiting time. While they admittedly were discouraged over the response, Mrs. Korn said they had not given up.

She said the committee heads had explained to her that “this is the busy time of year for the farmers” and that it was difficult to get them to commit themselves to a specific time for giving blood.

Inasmuch as many of the 4-H leaders group live on farms, Mrs. Korn pointed out that naturally it was in the rural areas of the county that they were looking for donors.

THE COUNTY'S quota for this visit of the bloodmobile is 150 pints, the same as it has been for more than two years. However, the Leaders Club was still hoping to surpass the quota.

The bloodmobile was here in February when 175 pints were donated. The Phi Beta Psi sorority was in charge of the recruiting then.

When it came back in April, the Grady sorority was in charge of recruiting and 180 pints were donated.

The bloodmobile is to be set up in the First Christian Church on N. North St. again this time. It will open at 10 A. M. and remain until 4 P. M. However, no appointment for donors are being scheduled after 3:45 P. M.; it was explained that this left 15 minutes to take care of the donors and move out on schedule.

During the first five months of this year, the secretary's report showed, 355 pints were donated in Fayette County (two visits of the bloodmobile) and 354 were used at

Toledo Prisoner Shot In Scuffle

TOLEDO (AP)—A prisoner who attacked a guard at Toledo's House of Correction last night was critically wounded by a shot near the heart. Supt. Roland C. Lytle said Walter Stacy, 23, of Sandusky and two other prisoners grabbed guard Walter Myers while Myers and guard Adam Kicz were checking a dormitory.

Kicz fired a warning shot, and two unidentified men let go, while Stacy hung on and was shot by Kicz, Lytle said.

Tot, Matches Mix; Death Is Winner

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two-year-old Robert Smith, burned over 65 per cent of his body yesterday after accidentally setting fire to his parents' East Side apartment, died today in St. Luke's Hospital.

Police said Robert started the fire in a bedroom while he was playing with matches.

C of C Board Looks to Future

Master Plan Action Given Close Study

The master plan, drawn up for the 25-year development of the Washington C. H. area, was gone over briefly by directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting Monday night. And, after some discussion, they agreed that the Chamber will start laying plans to follow through on some of the phases of it as soon as feasible.

Although the research and preparation was prepared by the School of City Design at Miami University as a project, the Chamber has arranged to have slides and some sort of permanent reproduction of the 30 maps and charts prepared for its own files for reference through the years.

A delegation from the Chamber is planning to go to Oxford Monday to discuss the matter of permanent records with Prof. Rudolph Frankel, head of the university's School of City Design.

Because of the opening of the baseball season for boys of the community, the directors scheduled their meeting for 8 o'clock instead of 7 o'clock.

BILL STOUTON, Chamber manager, reported to the board that the annual dinner "did not go into the red." The annual meeting followed a $3-a-plate dinner.

Emerson Marting and A. H. Hutton reported to the board on their investigation of big "welcome" billboards at the east and west entrances to Washington C. H. on the CCC Highway. The directors have felt that the old boards, which have been battered by the weather, should be replaced. Hutton and Marting were delegated to get cost estimates.

Just how the message on the billboards will be worded has not yet been determined, but the committee is to submit suggestions to the board at its next meeting. A final decision probably will be reached then.

After hearing a report on a meeting in Dayton attended by Past President Charles Reinke and Stouton, the directors went on record with a suggestion that the people of the community let their congressman and senator know their views on the Hoover Commission report.

The Hoover Commission recommended reorganization of several federal government departments that would effect savings amounting to many millions of dollars a year. The recommendations were discussed at the Dayton meeting attended by Reinke and Stouton.

STOUTON was commended for offering the Chamber's help to the Pennington Bakery officials after the big plant here was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning.

Howard G. Wright, vice president of the company and manager of the plant here, said Monday that temporary offices had been set up in the shipping department, which was not so severely damaged by the flames, and that five or six used desks were urgently needed.

Tom Mark reported on the progress that has been made in checking fire protection with Council in the hope that insurance rates could be reduced. His report carried many statistics and comparative figures for cities of comparable size. He told the board that he and City Manager James F. Parkinson planned to go to Columbus in the near future to continue the investigation.

gations and get additional information. Before the board adjourned, the directors discussed in considerable detail a suggestion that the Chamber of Commerce have a booth in the Merchants Building at the Fair next month. Indications were that something along this line would be done.

for the foreign aid project would be $292,497,000 or a statewide average of $33.34 for every citizen in Ohio, or $133.36 for a family of four persons.

THE ESTIMATE of Ohio's share is based on calculations by the Ohio Chamber's Research Department showing the state's residents and taxpayers pay 6.26 percent of the total federal tax burden.

The entire foreign aid program from July 1, 1945, when it started, to June 30, 1956, has cost taxpayers of the United States $51,752,000,000.

Of this amount, the Ohio Chamber figures show, Ohio taxpayers' share of the cost is $3,239,675,000. This amounts to a cost of $369.23 for every Ohio citizen or $1,476.92 for a family of four.

Cost to the taxpayers of Fayette County is estimated by the Ohio Chamber, at $7,289,000, or $299.36 for each resident of the county.

From another viewpoint, Ohio's share is two and one-fifth times the total taxes of $1,476,923,410 collected in Ohio at the state and local levels during the 1954-1955 fiscal year. State taxes collected in that period amounted to $795,544,920 and local taxes collected totaled $681,378,490.

IF THE $1,109,000,000 reduction in the proposed program is retained, savings to Ohio taxpayers would amount to $69,423,400.

Savings for counties adjoining Fayette would be:
Clinton, $188,137; Greene, $335,315; Highland, $161,757; Madison, $153,427; Pickaway, $174,947; Ross, $318,653.

School Suit

direct the court's attention to the statutes involved and to show in what direction their interest lies.

"Indeed the rule that pleading must be definite and certain, requires this, otherwise the court and the defendants would have no assurance as to which statutes and the specific provisions thereof the plaintiff sought to have their rights declared under, and what rights the plaintiff sought to have declared.

"If this were not required, plaintiffs could very easily change courses in the middle of the stream and claim rights under other statutes, or other rights and the defendants and the court would never be apprised of the real issues in the case by the pleadings.

"Counsel for defense have stated that they want the issues clearly drawn. Certainly if the petition did not specifically allege any statutes which were to be constructed by the court, and the claimed rights thereunder, the issues could never be clearly drawn."

IN ADDITION to taking up the various sections of the motions to strike and pointing why the sections in the petition should be allowed to stand, the taxpayers' memorandum points out court decisions in which it was held that motions to strike are looked upon with disfavor, and that the defense made the definite claim that the issues are of law and not of fact.

The memorandum defends the original petition in all phases, holding that all of the things the defense sought to have stricken out are essential, material and relevant.

In conclusion the plaintiff's memorandum states:

"Throughout both motions to strike, the basic objection of counsel for defendants is that the pleading of statutes and the language thereof constitute conclusions of law and should be stricken.

"It is inherent in any action for a declaratory judgment that the pleadings shall contain such allegations and further it is equally well established in pleadings under a statute granting rights and remedies unknown to common law, it is likewise proper to plead the language of the statute.

"Plaintiffs in their petition have stated facts and referred to the statutes and language thereof which are to be considered by the court in declaring the rights of the parties. To strike the language complained of will serve not only to cloud the issues but will, in fact, eliminate several issues which are essential to the declaration of rights of the parties herein."

Street Improvements With State Aid Lined Up for Jeffersonville

If everything goes according to plan, Jeffersonville is going to have some virtually brand new streets right through the heart of town.

It may be a couple of years, but a $210,000 street improvement project is all but on the 1958 program of the state Highway Department.

If it goes through—and there is nothing to indicate that it will not—High St. from the DT&L railroad crossing almost to the bridge across Paint Creek and Main Street from almost at the DT&L railroad crossing to north limit of the village will be rebuilt.

Most of the details of the project were worked out Monday at a meeting of Mayor Russell Mitchell, the village councilmen and Reed M. Winegardner, the solicitor, with Blake A. Hollinger, the project engineer of Division 6 of the Highway Department.

Winegardner, in outlining the project, said the two streets would be torn out and re-laid before the new surface is laid. He pointed out that, through the years, the crown of the streets, especially Main St., has been built up so much with the resurfacing that it is higher in the center than the sidewalks.

IN THE rebuilding process, he said, the plans as they now stand, call for putting in new curbs and new drainage where needed.

He commented that the crown had become so high that in places it was next to impossible for cars and trucks to get away from the curb during the winter when there is snow and ice on the streets.

If the project is given final approval by both the Council and the Highway Department, Winegardner said, it is calculated to cost the village only $6,000 and the state will pay the remaining $114,000.

How the village will raise its share of the cost is still uncertain, but Winegardner said that after the Monday conference the councilmen were just about agreed that an effort would be made to finance most of it with funds from the gasoline and auto license tax money. If that will not cover all of the village's share of the cost, he added, "the difference probably will have to be raised through a special tax levy."

HE SAID, also, that Council had considered suggesting to the businessmen that they help with contributions to a fund earmarked for that purpose. This, however, was only a possibility, he emphasized.

Supreme Court Labeled 'Cheap'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Cowboy candidate for governor J. Evetts Haley has called the Supreme Court "a bunch of cheap politicians" who should be impeached by Congress. Haley, former history professor and author, said if the federal government should seek to enforce an integration injunction against a school board, the state should resist to the point of "throwing the U. S. marshal in the housego." If the government should send U. S. troops, "that would mean a police state," Haley said. He said he didn't think the conflict would go that far. He added that he would not want to carry resistance to the point of secession, commenting he didn't think it would be necessary.

With the general outlines of the project agreed on at the Monday meeting, Winegardner said that final action probably will be taken by Council at its next regular meeting on July 2; the village Council meets the first Monday of each month.

The solicitor expressed confidence, after the Monday conference with the Highway Department's project engineer, that if the village Council give the project the go ahead signal, the state Highway Department will place it on the program for 1958.

Luncheon Club Can Be Livelier!

Here Are Some Tips For Pepping It Up

By GEORGE C. DWORSHAK

Is your luncheon club lively, with a varying activity pattern? At your board meeting and district conferences, do you have brain-storming sessions to bring forth new ideas, just as factory foremen and sales managers are urged to have a questioning manner so that better methods and more sales can be achieved?

Ideas such as the following can help your club achieve a functional rejuvenation that will make membership as exciting as it was for those who pioneered the organization. Many of these ideas have been tried by the writer, and the reactions they won prompts the sharing of them with you. Try a few of these:

1—Have a guest-of-the-week—someone deserving friendly recognition for a fine task just completed or for long devotion to a cause. In three to five minutes, it can be told what he has done, and he can take a bow.

2—Invite the musically-minded members to write parodies that make jovial references to the members.

3—Ask one of your writers to note bits of chatter during the meal that can be used without offense in the weekly bulletin. This material will give some conversational starting points at the next meeting.

4—Make lighter luncheons available for those who dislike a heavy meal at noon because it makes them drowsy and uncomfortable the rest of the day.

5—Install a public address system so that long-playing records can be used for background music during the meal.

6—Air-condition your meeting place.

7—Bring a member to his feet for a couple of minutes, to tell something about his work or a humorous incident. If the latter is done, have an applause meter that will record the audience reaction for eight to 12 weeks so that an award can be made to the best laugh-getter.

8—If the speaker has come some distance, pay his expenses rather than let the club accumulate the money and eventually give some local cause a large check.

9—Make sure that issues affecting the members individually are brought to them for their decisions in democratic fashion, in keeping with the weekly pledge before the national flag. The authority of

Revival Service Is Under Way

A week-long revival service that got under way at the Church of Christ in Christian Union on Gregg Street Monday night is to wind up next Sunday with an all-day meeting, Rev. Charles Ware, the pastor, said.

Rev. Donald Pfeiffer, the evangelist, is coming here from Waverly to conduct the services, starting at 8 o'clock each evening.

Sidney Lambert is the young people's leader. As a special added attraction, there will be Charles Cartwright (left above) and Harmon Pfeiffer, to provide the special vocal music. They play their own accompaniment on mandolin and guitar.

There is to be a songfest Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and a baptism immediately afterward. The evangelistic service is to start at 7:30 o'clock.

leadership in a factory might be a community organization.

10—In the post-meeting news stories, spotlight the speaker's most dynamic thoughts so other folk in the community may share them and grow, too.

11—Have a hidden mike at a table to pick up meal time conversation, so that a few minutes of it can be played back for a jovial interlude.

12—Use a biographical brief on a new member in your weekly bulletin; it will accelerate his really becoming one of the group.

13—Drop a club project that has reached the saturation point.

14—Invite the national president, some member who has moved to another community, or a leader of some remote club to send a five-minute taped message to your group.

15—Have different members preside; it's good for them and will reveal potential presidents.

16—At the end of the year, have the president tape a brief comment on the year's events (20 to 51 typed lines make five minutes' speaking) for use, along with those of his successor, some years later.

17—Really make sure the speaker knows how long he is to talk beg him to avoid the bromidic phrase, "It's a great pleasure to be here" urge him to use considerable humor, for that helps win close attention for the serious thoughts he would register; provide a rostrum if he wishes it for convenience or peace of mind.

18—Have an instructional session on parliamentary procedure for the club's officers, or at the district conference.

19—Analyze the psychology of your club's gifts to the community—do they stimulate the initiative of individuals, or do they encourage a paternalistic pattern?

Ohio 'Exile Order' Probe Is Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Andrews (D-Ala.) has asked Attorney General Brownell to investigate an Ohio court order which sent a Negro mother and her eight dependents back to Livingston, Ala., last week.

Andrews reported that Judge Albert A. Woldman of Cleveland issued an "exile order" directing deputies to go to the home of Martha Winstons "and put Martha Winstons and the members of her family on a bus or train for Alabama, over the vigorous protest of Martha Winstons."

The woman and her husband separated five years ago and she went to Cleveland to live four years ago. A juvenile court official testified that the family was not eligible for relief in Ohio but was in Sumter County, Ala.

Judge Foster fined the 42-year-old Czajkowski $7 for disturbing the peace.

Much May Depend Upon Nato's Future

Doubtless our own nation as well as many others must be giving a great amount of thought and planning for the future of NATO which is supposed to be binding together the Western World of friendly nations touching the Atlantic Coast or adjacent to it.

Our own country should be concerned because NATO's future could be the difference between war and peace in coming years.

NATO came into existence in 1949 to meet a serious military challenge. Although that challenge seems less imminent today it is still present and real.

As a result the North Atlantic Treaty Organization of 15 nations, appears to be shifting its emphasis toward economic and political functions; what transpires as a result will be well worth watching.

For generations, the ideal of a United States of Europe has haunted leading diplomatic figures of the European continent. Winston Churchill thought of it frequently and urged its consideration by international agencies.

Perhaps the military emergencies which called NATO into being in a y become the force behind a new political effort. In the meantime, our own government is now seeking to direct NATO towards economic goals.

NATO consists largely of the heavily industrialized lands of Western Europe. They have the means of exporting goods to the so-called "have-not" countries of the Middle East and Asia. If we can succeed in encouraging this form of economic aid through NATO, we shall be making a most effective contribution to the cause of improved world living standards, and we shall also be utilizing NATO to a good, constructive advantage.

All this may have a strong effect in containing the Communist threat which has been worrying so many free nations.

Soviet Russia, unless she has changed her methods, has taken great advantage of edging into control where people were poor, hungry and always ready to start a revolution with a little backing. Then, whenever possible, in the midst of such a war's terrors, Communism, with a lot of promises by leaders who saw great personal gains for themselves, then took over while downtrodden people found themselves actually less free and worse off than ever before under such dictatorship.

He Was So Round, Unfirm

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (U)—There are at least 26 million overweight Americans, and Leonard Louis Levinson has just written a book dedicated to them all.

His dedication reads: "To the thin person, inside every fat person, fighting to get out."

A reformed fatty himself, this repentant sinner is the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde of the diet field.

For most of his life Levinson, now 52, never counted his calories and preferred to take them rather than leave them alone.

He was a highly successful writer of film scripts, stage skits and radio shows. He wrote for Fibber McGee and Molly and many another entertainment headliner.

Then he was commissioned to write "The Brown Derby Cookbook," to celebrate the sophisticated cuisine of the Hollywood restaurant he patronized himself.

"In preparing that book," he recalled, "I tasted about 1,500 dishes they had in a card file as well as all those they had in the menu. For example, they had 23 different ways of preparing lamb kidneys and I tried them all.

"The recipes weren't for people worried about putting on weight. Most of them started off—'take a half pound of butter... or a pint of rich cream and...'"

Levinson who wore a great brown walrus mustache when he started the project, resembled a walrus in other ways when it was finished. He was round, unfirm and fully packed. He was also short of breath and unforgotten.

His doctor told him he had to reduce at least 13 pounds.

"I thought it would be easy," said Levinson, "but it took me a full year. I had become too used to stuffing myself with rich food. 'But I like to throw myself into a thing, and I got really interested in nutrition and made a thorough study of it.'"

The result, after more than two years of experimentation with himself as the guinea pig, is a book on the other side of the dietary fence. It is called

"The Complete Book of Low Calorie Cooking."

Just how thorough was his research?

"Well," said Levinson, "I found 365 ways to prepare a breakfast egg—a different way for every day of the year."

The book abounds with tips on how ordinary diet cheaters, such as the midnight icebox raiders and the between meals snackers, can gorge themselves on extra fodder that will fill their empty stomachs but won't put on weight.

"The single most important thing a dieter should learn is moderation—then he can eat almost anything," he said.

"But moderation is something many people just can't practice. So for them the answer must be to pick low-calorie foods to fill up on."

The days when he ate lamb kidneys prepared in 23 sauce-rich ways are past for Levinson, who fought successfully to get out of his old fat self. But he has no regrets.

"We are what we eat," he said, "and the more we eat the more we are."

The Big Racket, But Legitimate?

By George Sokolsky

It is impossible even to approximate that cost to this nation of the prohibition experiment in social or economic terms. But one of the side effects is coming to the surface now and is about to be investigated by a Senate committee.

During prohibition, the drinking habits of the American people became more general and widespread but no potable alcohol was legitimate except for sacramental or medicinal purposes. Liquor of all sorts, from fine wines to raw alcohol, was imported into the country and sold surreptitiously. The trade fell into the hands of bootleggers who were, in turn, supplied by theoretically legitimate distillers and vintners in Canada, Scotland, France, etc. Billions of dollars went into this trade.

The dollars had to be deposited in banks because there were too many dollars to keep in show boxes under a bed. As long as these dollars could evade being taxed, they could be owned anonymously. But in the U. S. the anonymous ownership of cash money is dangerous, so it was found advisable to find ways and means to transport these untaxed dollars abroad, to legitimize them, to establish Swiss, Liechtenstein, Tangier, Monaco, Panamanian and other sorts of corporations to make it possible to reinvest these funds in American industry. The best type of operation is a Liechtenstein corporation that keeps its money in a Swiss bank.

Prohibition laid the basis for this type of operation. Later came other enormous reservoirs of money. The dope traffic, for instance, has been important in international commerce for more than a century, was alone time wholly legitimate and huge fortunes have been established in it. When the shipment of opium from India and Persia to China, for many years the principal trade, the business grew larger, fell into vicious hands, and developed into morphine, cocaine and heroin trade. The principal manufacturer is Red China, the leading consumer's market is the United States.

Again the money is big—billions of dollars. It has to find its way, through many hands, from the consumer to the manufacturer. It has to be transported in the form of cash dollars, secretly; it must evade taxation; it must be banked and converted into legitimate money. This is a very complicated traffic and the returns are enormous.

Another source of secret money is the Nazi holdings—Hitler's, Goering's, Goebbels' money. We do not even have estimates of the amounts, where this money was deposited, how it was banked and legitimized. There has been an inkling of Peron's secret money but not enough data to justify an opinion as to amount or where it is invested.

It is, however, becoming increasingly clear that when secret, untaxed money is made legitimate, particularly by the device of an anonymous Swiss bank account, often carried by a number instead of in the name of a person, and doing business under the guise of an anonymous corporation that can be organized in a number of countries, it returns to the United States either to purchase American businesses, to manipulate the market in securities or it operates cartels for retail goods in competition with American firms under advantageous reciprocal treaties. Everything is corrupted by this gimmick money which remains untaxed.

It is not possible for such money to function as brazenly in Great Britain because of the tight control of the bank of England and the treasury over the pound sterling and foreign currencies, but such money can be

The fighting extended from the northeastern corner near Constantine to Tlemcen in the west. The French gave no figures on their own casualties.

Rebel attacks were reported at scattered points throughout Algeria. Insurgents burned down the City Hall in Orléans and Moslems friendly to the French were reported slain in at least six towns.

Fatigue May Have An Emotional Basis

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Feel tired all the time, even when you haven't worked especially hard? Then perhaps you may need the services of a psychiatrist as well as a physician.

Intensive psychotherapy frequently is called for in cases where the fatigue is out of proportion to the amount of physical and mental labor the patient has performed.

Emotional Basis

Such cases, which are not at all uncommon, generally have an emotional basis.

Gynecologists and obstetricians report these symptoms are frequently encountered in their patients. Internists say as many as 50 percent of their patients voice the complaint.

Many of these cases probably can be traced to childhood when a well-meaning mother strongly emphasized the need for rest.

Sources of Energy

Of course, rest and food, too, are important sources of energy. But no matter how much food or rest you get, it doesn't enable your body to store up a reservoir of energy.

Some persons unconsciously use this need-for-rest idea as an excuse for doing poor work or not achieving much.

If you are one of them, let's see why.

First, you may be satisfying your ego by appearing to be tired all the time. This fatigue might lead others to think that you are a hard worker.

Then again, it may be a way of avoiding responsibility or escaping more work, since less is expected of a tired person.

Perhaps it is a way of gaining the sympathy and kindness of others or of achieving a passive, dependent position. Again, it may be an unconscious attempt to conceal or deny aggression, hostility or even sexual drives.

Monotonous work, boredom,

Much May Depend Upon Nato's Future

Doubtless our own nation as well as many others must be giving a great amount of thought and planning for the future of NATO which is supposed to be binding together the Western World of friendly nations touching the Atlantic Coast or adjacent to it.

DEAR R. S.: Your feelings and views about outward appearances are rather confused. It seems you are falling short of whatever goals you'd hoped to attain by this age; and you are resentful about it, and don't know which way to turn, or what to do, to get on the beam of happy satisfactory experience. And so you are blaming the world for being all wrong.

Now, to get you straightened out about appearances: In your complaint—that too much emphasis is placed on a person's appearance nowadays, without regard for his (or her) special human qualities—you strongly imply that "appearance" consists wholly of what one is wearing. And that to make a favorable impression, one must be rather emphatically well-dressed.

Actually, the theory that "appearance" proclaims the man isn't new to our day. It was true in Shakespeare's day also—and it was he who coined the phrase I've quoted above. And here indeed is the heart of the matter—one's manner of dress is apt to reveal one's true inner self. Would-be misleading show isn't likely to deceive the astute beholder.

When we look at a person, we usually see the individual in entirety, if we are in the habit of looking perceptively. Personality (what one is) shows in the face, in the eyes and mouth particularly, and in the cast of the countenance; also in the general bodily bearing. ## Even Truck Sales Showing Some Softness

Profitable Sideline Of Auto Industry Has Troubles Too

By SAM DAWSON

DETROIT (AP)—Two toned cars may be the glamor girls of the automobile industry but this year it's the broad beamed trucks that have been bringing home the sales and profits.

But of late even the trucks, like so many other things in the economy, have begun to show a split personality.

Light weight truck sales have turned soft, industry spokesmen say. They report a drop in purchasing by farmers, one of their big customers. Makers hope for a sales pickup in the fall.

Heavy duty trucks, on the other hand, are still barreling right down the highway. And the new multi-billion dollar highway system now in the works doesn't cloud their forward vision in the least. Backlogs of orders are high.

They cite: The many new plants being built on the outskirts of cities or along the throughways; the plants being dispersed into semi-rural or previously non-industrial areas; the rush to the suburbs from the cities, meaning a rash of shopping centers and branch stores to be served; and changes in a number of state laws to permit bigger truck and trailer units to pound the highways.

Heavy duty truck builders point out that for some time their gains have outpaced the truck market as a whole.

The slippage in light truck sales and production is much less than in that of pleasure cars. Latest Ford figures show output of trucks off 18 per cent from a year ago while Ford passenger cars dropped 24 per cent.

General Motors, although noting a recent softening in demand for light trucks, still figures industry sale of all trucks this year at 950, sales a pleasant part of its picture but wishes they were better.

Still happier figures and forecasts come from the independents. Robert F. Black chairman of White Motor, a heavy truck builder, report sales rose 36 per cent in the first three months of the year and profits rose 41 per cent.

John L. McCaffrey, chairman of International Harvester, says in Chicago, "Our backlog of motor truck orders shows no signs of diminishing." A layoff this month at International's Springfield, Ohio, truck plant, officials say, is to make way for plant alterations and particularly to prepare for more production of heavy duty and lower output of light trucks.

Mack Trucks reports booming sales in its specialty, heavy duties. Diamond T. Motor Car, a small company, is putting increasing stress on heavy truck output. Divco Corp., largely known for its delivery type trucks, especially for the dairy industry, is bringing out larger and faster models.

Trailer makers are right in there, too. Roy Fruehauf, president of Fruehauf Trailer, says his sales should show a 70 per cent gain this year.

Yellow Springs Engineer Given 30-Day Jail Term

WASHINGTON (AP)—Norton Anthony Russell, 38, Yellow Springs, Ohio engineer who refused to answer questions before a House committee in 1954, Monday was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $500 for contempt of Congress.

Russell's attorneys filed notice of appeal and he was released under $1,000 bond.

Russell was convicted in Federal District Court May 31 on three charges of contempt. Originally he was indicted on 16 counts of contempt growing out of his refusal to answer questions while testifying before the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The committee was inquiring into alleged Communist activities at Antioch College during the time Russell was a student there.

iod were topped during the first 10 days of this month. Tolls and concessions brought in an estimated $473,000, he said.

Average revenues for the period may hit $47,500—against a need of about $39,000 a day for all expenses including the reserve required to service the commission's $326 million debt.

Lucasville Man Drowns In Creek

COLUMBUS (AP)—Alva Tranner, 30, of near Lucasville, drowned yesterday in Big Walnut Creek near the U. S. 23 bridge about nine miles south of here.

Franklin County sheriff's deputies said Tranner went down when he stepped into deep water while wading with his daughter Linda Lou, 10.

School Fund Rule Given By Official

COLUMBUS (AP)—Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill has ruled that the 1955 tax duplicate must be used in determining allocation of public school funds for the last quarter of 1955.

R. M. Eyman, state school superintendent, requested the opinion. He said the 1954 tax duplicate formed the basis for distributions for the first three quarters of this year.

School districts must levy at least 10 mills on property to participate in the state school foundation program under which schools receive public funds.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Why do outward appearances count for so much in this world? I am college educated, in my early thirties; and I am considered nice looking and dress well. I probably spend too much on my wardrobe and have the feeling that some day I will regret not salting more away.

However, I find in my work—secretarial—that the emphasis is placed on appearance first, and ability second. Each time I have gone for a job-interview I know that my grooming is being noted as much if not more than my scholastic and past business record.

Frankly, none of the jobs I have landed has ever utilized my potentialities, career-wise, and I am getting fed-up with getting dressed-up every day to come in to a mediocre job.

I can't help but toy with the fancy of what would happen if I appeared at work some day in a sloppy dress, with down-at-heel shoes and runs in my stockings. I am sure my boss would be shocked.

R. S.

DEAR R. S.: Your feelings and views about outward appearances are rather confused. It seems you are falling short of whatever goals you'd hoped to attain by this age; and you are resentful about it, and don't know which way to turn, or what to do, to get on the beam of happy satisfactory experience. And so you are blaming the world for being all wrong.

Now, to get you straightened out about appearances: In your complaint—that too much emphasis is placed on a person's appearance nowadays, without regard for his (or her) special human qualities—you strongly imply that "appearance" consists wholly of what one is wearing. And that to make a favorable impression, one must be rather emphatically well-dressed.

Actually, the theory that "appearance" offends the man isn't new to our day. It was true in Shakespeare's day also — and it was he who coined the phrase I've quoted above. And here indeed is the heart of the matter — one's manner of dress is apt to reveal one's true inner self. Would - be misleading show isn't likely to deceive the astute beholder.

When we look at a person, we usually see the individual in entirety, if we are in the habit of looking perceptively. Personality (what one is) shows in the face, in the eyes and mouth particularly, and in the cast of the countenance; also in the general bodily bearing. And the individual's choice of clothing (his or her total wardrobe and daily costume) usually reflect with remarkable accuracy that person's tastes, ambitions, associations, and purchasing power.

Even Truck Sales Showing Some Softness

Profitable Sideline Of Auto Industry Has Troubles Too

By SAM DAWSON

DETROIT (AP) — Two toned cars may be the glamor girls of the automobile industry but this year it's the broad beamed trucks that have been bringing home the sales and profits.

But of late even the trucks, like so many other things in the economy, have begun to show a split personality.

Light weight truck sales have turned soft, industry spokesmen say. They report a drop in purchasing by farmers, one of their big customers. Makers hope for a sales pickup in the fall.

Heavy duty trucks, on the other hand, are still barreling right down the highway. And the new multi-billion dollar highway system now in the works doesn't cloud their forward vision in the least. Backlogs of orders are high.

They cite: The many new plants being built on the outskirts of cities or along the throughways; the plants being dispersed into semi-rural or previously non-industrial areas; the rush to the suburbs from the cities, meaning a rash of shopping centers and branch stores to be served; and change in a number of state laws to permit bigger truck and trailer units to pound the highways.

Heavy duty truck builders point out that for some time their gains have outpaced the truck market as a whole.

The slippage in light truck sales and production is much less than in that of pleasure cars. Latest Ford figures show output of trucks off 18 per cent from a year ago while Ford passenger cars dropped 24 per cent.

General Motors, although noting a recent softening in demand for light trucks, still figures industry sale of all trucks this year at 950,000, a pleasant part of its picture but wishes they were better. Still happier figures and forecasts come from the independents. Robert F. Black chairman of

Board and Room

White Motor, a heavy truck builder, report sales rose 36 per cent in the first three months of the year and profits rose 41 per cent.

John L. McCaffrey, chairman of International Harvester, says in Chicago, "Our backlog of motor truck orders shows no signs of diminishing." A layoff this month at International's Springfield, Ohio, truck plant, officials say, is to make way for plant alterations and particularly to prepare for more production of heavy duty and lower output of light trucks.

Mack Trucks reports booming sales in its specialty, heavy trucks.

Diamond T. Motor Car, a small company, is putting increasing stress on heavy truck output.

Divco Corp., largely known for its delivery type trucks, especially for the dairy industry, is bringing out larger and faster models.

Trailer makers are right in there, too. Roy Fruehauf, president of Fruehauf Trailer, says his sales should show a 70 per cent gain this year.

Padre Prepares Bull Fighters

He Celebrates Mass Then 'Talks Shop'

By EMIL ZUBRYN

MEXICO CITY — Every Sunday, for more than nine years now, Padre Roberto Gonzalez Padilla has officiated at the celebration of Mass in the tiny chapel of Mexico City's bull ring, La Plaza de Mejico.

In attendance is a compact, select group of those who face "death in the afternoon" at four: the starring matadors and picadores, banderilleros, impresarios, several wealthy livestock men and a sprinkling of aficionados.

Generally, it is a matador who assists with Mass, although, on some occasions, the less spectacular picador or banderillero may serve.

Once the Mass is finished, the sonorous, highly significant prayer for the bullfighter is heard: "For those who go to fight this afternoon, perhaps to die..."

All present join in the prayer dedicated to all those who, hours later, will place their lives in jeopardy in the bull ring.

AFTER MASS, Padre Padilla devotes an hour for confession and the giving of spiritual counsel to members of his unique "congregation." Discarding his official vestments, the Padre then talks and jokes with all those associated in some way with the sport.

Padre Padilla is highly popular and held in great esteem by bull ring personnel, from the most famous matador to the lowliest cleaner and sweeper.

Clear browed, of robust complexion, blond hair and a fondness for the special chatter of the bull ring, Padre Padilla "talks shop" with his flock, and has a ready laugh for jokes and witticisms. He is well versed in the finesse of fighting in the bull ring and can be (and usually is) highly critical of "unbecoming" performances.

The chaplain of the bull ring is used to the special Sunday routine that breaks up his equally heavy, normal, daily schedule. Around 3:30 P. M. some of the more rapid dressers among the bullfighters and assistants appear for the benediction and then, five minutes to four in the afternoon, before the brilliantly clothed performers parade into the ring there is the final mass benediction.

As the drama of the afternoon unfolds, a visible nervousness manifests itself in an otherwise jolly Padre Padilla. He does not watch the flirtation with death in the ring that pits skill and dexterity, and the catlike grace of a supple dancer, against the brave bulls.

PADRE PADILLA prays that all will go well but when a matador or assistant is killed, he is ready to go into action with the physicians, who also stand by. While the doctors fight to save the body, the Padre fights to save the soul.

Whenever there is a grave wound, and an operation is performed in the special operating chamber in the Plaza, Padre Padilla confesses the afflicted fighter and also gives extreme unction because the Canon Rights consider that anesthesia places life in danger, even though the wound itself does not have an equal risk.

"In the years I have acted as chaplain at the Plaza," said Padre Padilla, "not one torero has refused to receive the sacraments."

What has impressed me even more, in the cases of emergency, is the interest they show to repent and confess their sins, despite the fact that very often the wounds are painful.

Thank God that until this moment not one of the toreros I have attended has died."

All persons connected with the bull ring are highly devout and religion, to them, is a serious matter. The little chapel is a busy place for it draws matadors and others at all hours of the morning and early afternoon. They come to pray for a few minutes and, after the afternoon's performance is over, the chapel is filled again with those who come to give thanks that they have been spared from harm.

Padre Padilla has been chaplain of Mexico City's bull ring ever since 1947, when he was invited to read a special Mass for the soul of Manuel Rodriguez, the immortal "Manolete" who, after a glorious career, caught up with death in the afternoon.

The chaplain is a young man, only 37, and was born in Aguascalientes. He was ordained in Mexico City in 1943.

French Hear New Charges Against Stalin

PARIS — Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev has informed other Soviet leaders that Joseph Stalin in his later years kept a harem of young girls, the mass circulation newspaper France-Soir reported today.

It said in a dispatch from Vienna that Khrushchev recently told his colleagues Stalin was subject to "sexual aberrations, a veritable erotomania — sexual insanity — sexual obsessions degenerating into sadism directed toward younger and younger girls."

The article said Khrushchev declared Stalin's harem was recruited for him by his police boss, Lavrenty Beria, and that Beria confessed this before he was put to death as a traitor.

In New York last April, Alexander Orlov, former Soviet secret police commissar, who has lived in hiding in the United States for nearly 20 years, told a news conference Stalin was a homosexual. He did not elaborate.

France-Soir was the first Western newspaper to publish the text of Khrushchev's famous speech—about a week before it was released by the U. S. State Department.

The newspaper's Vienna dispatch also said Khrushchev accused Stalin of murdering his second wife, Nadejda Allayeva, when she disapproved of his order deporting dispossessed peasants to remote parts of the Soviet Union. It said Stalin, according to Khrushchev, fired a gun at his wife, then strangled her. France-Soir's report said Khrushchev had suggested Stalin's crimes were so heinous that he should be tried even though he is dead.

Cypriots Calling For New Attacks

NICOSIA, Cyprus —Greek Cypriot rebels defiantly called on their countrymen today to launch new savage attacks as thousands of British soldiers combed the hills of northwest Cyprus to search them out.

New leaflets were tossed about the villages of the Troodos Mountain region during the night by EOKA, the pro-Greek Cypriots, urging Greek Cypriots "to hit and hit the tyrant until Cyprus becomes free."

The leaflets warned: "We will continue in this new year with a new faith, resolution, patience, perseverance and self-sacrifice until the tyrant is driven from the fatherland and the blue white flag of Greece flies above this bloodstained and long-suffering island."

Women Really Do Not Like To Look Like Lampshades

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Women don't really like to look like lampshades, string beans or little boys. They like to look like women.

This drastic discovery was made by fashion designer Adele Simpson during a recent trip around the country, during which she talked to thousands of women in scores of towns in the North, South, East and West. Says she:

"Women are tired of fads and grotesque fashions. They're also fed up on the over-casual look, which sometimes turns out to be merely sloppy. Surprisingly enough, it's now fashionable to be ladylike, neat, elegant, properly hatted and gloves, even a bit formal."

During the recent opening of her fall fashion collection, Mrs. Simpson explained the research and psychology behind the new look of fall clothes — the elegance of town clothes, the important hats, the return of the long evening gown. The changes in the silhouette are subtle, but you can't miss them. There's a raised waistline, a fastidious feminine look, a di rectoire air to her new suits and dresses. Clothes are slender, but not skin-tight, in the recent sheath manner. The designer explains:

"Women like to be able to move around inside their clothes. That's another thing I found by talking to them. They don't want to feel trussed up like a turkey ready for the oven. They want to feel elegant as well as look that way."

The Record-Herald Tuesday, June 12, 1956 7
Washington, C. H. Ohio

And nobody ever looked beautiful, poised and attractive in a dress so tight that she couldn't breathe."

Another designer who feels that the age of elegance has returned is Fred Fredericks, the milliner, says he:

"Women are going to be wearing gala hats with long evening gowns this winter, just wait and see."

Guillotine Faces Viet Nam Rebel

CATHO. South Viet Nam — Gen. Ba Cut, the daring freebooter who led the Hoa Hao religious sect army in an abortive revolt against the Saigon government, today was sentenced to death by a Vietnamese tribunal.

The 32-year-old rebel chieftain

will lose his head on the guillotine if an appeal fails.

Ba Cut commanded the 10,000-man army of the Hoa Hao, a primitive Buddhist sect that set up its own regime in southwestern Viet Nam. The general was captured and his army crushed last March by Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's troops.

The American Bible Society distributed 14,918,353 volumes of Scripture in 1955.

The newspaper's Vienna dispatch also said Khrushchev accused Stalin of murdering his second wife, Nadejda Alliluyeva, when she disapproved of his order deporting dispossessed peasants to remote parts of the Soviet Union. It said Stalin, according to Khrushchev, fired a gun at his wife, then strangled her. France-Soir's report said Khrushchev had suggested Stalin's crimes were so heinous that he should be tried even though he is dead.

Cypriots Calling For New Attacks

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek Cypriot rebels defiantly called on their countrymen today to launch new savage attacks as thousands of British soldiers combed the hills of northwest Cyprus to search them out.

New leaflets were tossed about the villages of the Troodos Mountain region during the night by EOKA, the pro-Greek underground, urging Greek Cypriots "to hit and hit the tyrant until Cyprus becomes free."

The leaflets warned: "We will continue in this new year with a new faith, resolution, patience, perseverance and self-sacrifice until the tyrant is driven from the fatherland and the blue white flag of Greece flies above this bloodstained and long-suffering island."

Women Really Do Not Like To Look Like Lampshades

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor Women don't really like to look like lampshades, string beans or little boys. They like to look like women.

This drastic discovery was made by fashion designer Adele Simpson during a recent trip around the country, during which she talked to thousands of women in scores of towns in the North, South, East and West. Says she:

"Women are tired of fads and grotesque fashions. They're also fed up on the over-casual look, which sometimes turns out to be merely sloppy. Surprisingly enough, it's now fashionable to be ladylike, neat, elegant, properly hatted and gloved, even a bit formal."

During the recent opening of her fall fashion collection, Mrs. Simpson explained the research and psychology behind the new look of fall clothes — the elegance of town clothes, the important hats, the return of the long evening gown. The changes in the silhouette are subtle, but you can't miss them. There's a raised waistline, a fastidious feminine look, a directoire air to her new suits and dresses. Clothes are slender, but not skin-tight, in the recent sheath manner. The designer explains:

"Women like to be able to move around inside their clothes. That's another thing I found by talking to them. They don't want to feel trussed up like a turkey ready for the oven. They want to feel elegant as well as look that way."

The Record-Herald Tuesday, June 12, 1956 7
Washington, C. H. Ohio

And nobody ever looked beautiful, poised and attractive in a dress so tight that she couldn't breathe."

Another designer who feels that the age of elegance has returned is Fred Fredericks, the milliner, says he:

"Women are going to be wearing gala hats with long evening gowns this winter, just wait and see."

Guillotine Faces Viet Nam Rebel

CATHO, South Viet Nam (AP) — Gen. Ba Cut, the daring freebooter who led the Hoa Hao religious sect army in an abortive revolt against the Saigon government, today was sentenced to death by a Vietnamese tribunal.

The 32-year-old rebel chieftain

will lose his head on the guillotine if an appeal fails.

Ba Cut commanded the 10,000-man army of the Hoa Hao, a primitive Buddhist sect that set up its own regime in southwestern Viet Nam. The general was captured and his army crushed last March by Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's troops.

The American Bible Society distributed 14,918,353 volumes of Scripture in 1955.

Parley Space For Ohioans To Be Rather Shy

Political Convention
Guests To Face Lack Of Seats, Hotel Rooms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — Acute shortages loom for Ohio guests of national political conventions this year.

Whether it's a convention hall seat or a hotel bed depends on your party preference.

Democrats lack enough seats for those wanting to attend their convention opening Aug. 13 in Chicago's Stockyards Hall.

Republicans can't find enough good hotel rooms in San Francisco for delegates and guests at their convention opening Aug. 20 in the vast Cow Palace.

Albert A. Horstman of Dayton, Democratic national committee handling Ohio arrangements has this to say about the Chicago ticket shortage:

"This year Ohio will only receive 60 tickets for each session of the convention. The reason we will receive such a small allotment is on account of the large number of delegates and alternates."

"In 1952 there were 3,152 delegates and alternates and this year there are 4,640. In addition there is the problem of TV coverage which makes it necessary to curtail access to the convention floor for the public."

"Suggest that you tell anyone who wants to attend the convention that there will be very few tickets available for guests."

Ohio delegation headquarters will be in Chicago's Hotel Sherman.

Ray C. Bliss, Republican state chairman and national committee man, expects to have about 200 tickets available for Ohio guests at San Francisco. He fears that won't be enough.

But Bliss says his real headache is housing. Ohio delegates expect to stay at the Palace Hotel. Alternates and other Ohioans face a tough problem in getting first rate accommodations. Some may find themselves miles from the convention hall in rooms they don't like, Bliss cautioned.

Republicans will have a total of 2,646 delegates and alternates at their convention, compared with 2,412 four years ago.

Ohio will send 56 delegates and 56 alternates, the same number as in 1952. Each congressional district elected two delegates and two alternates in the May 8 primary. Ten at-large delegates and 10 at-large alternates were elected statewide.

The delegation is pledged to U.S. Sen. John W. Bricker as "favorite son" in a holding operation for President Eisenhower. Each Ohio delegate has a full vote.

Ohio Democrats will have 70 delegates and 70 alternates carrying a total of 58 votes at their convention. Two delegates from each of Ohio's 23 congressional districts will have a full vote each. Twenty-four at-large delegates elected statewide will have a half vote each. Ohio also will have 24 alternates at-large.

Four years ago Ohio had 62 delegates carrying 54 full votes. Forty-six delegates had a full vote each and 16 at-large delegates had a half vote apiece. The 52 delegation split down the middle between former U.S. Sen. Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland as "favorite son" and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. Bulkley released his delegates to Adlai E. Stevenson, the party nominee.

This year most of the Ohio Democratic delegation is pledged to Gov. Frank J. Lausche as "favorite son." The five-term governor has said he would allow his name to be placed in contention for the presidential nomination. Although disclaiming ambition for national office, Lausche said he would not refuse nomination.

Lausche is the Democratic nominee for U.S. Senator in the Nov. 6 election in case lightning fails to strike him in Chicago.

Four district delegates with as many in the Ohio delegation are anti-Lausche and might cause the governor some embarrassment at the convention.

Convention managers reportedly hold a dim view of Lausche's reputation for political independence.

His recent exchange with Paul M. Butler, national Democratic chairman, over party matters also could work against the Ohioan, politicians said, and account for the Buckeye ticket shortage.

Michigan Police Nix Bermuda Shorts

MUSKEGON, Mich. (P)—Muskegon police have nixed Bermuda shorts for hot weather wear, but are shedding neckties for the summer. Chief Fred E. Castenholz said he got an overwhelming "no" on Bermuda shorts in an informal poll, and that one patrolman summed up the force's reaction thus: "They'd laugh us off the streets."

Westerville Youth Elected Buckeye Boys State Chief

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (P)—A 16-year-old Westerville youth Monday led the entire slate of Nationalist candidates into the six state offices at the 19th annual Buckeye Boys' State.

Richard H. Gorsuch was inaugurated governor Monday night, taking the oath from Associate Justice Charles Zimmerman of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Going into office with Gorsuch were Lt. Gov. John H. Clark, Toledo; Secretary of State Lindsay Humphrey, Akron; Treasurer Bill J. Zuga, Warren; Auditor Clarence Warfield, Sandusky; and Atty. Gen. Mark Levine, Cleveland.

Officials who supervised the election at the American Legion-sponsored "state" said this was the first time they could recall that one party won all the state offices. The vote was heavy, with all but three of the 991 boy citizens casting ballots. Gorsuch won by a 2.1 margin over Bill Lee Spencer, 18, of Youngstown, the Federalist nominee.

County Relief Expenditure Up

COLUMBUS (P)—Ohio's 88 counties boosted their relief expenditures to $84,131,828 last year, an $11,435,866 increase over 1954.

Reports by county auditors show poor relief accounted for the greatest share of the expenditures with $33,387,546 or more than 39 per cent of the total. Aid to dependent and crippled children was next with $19,067,268 or more than 22 per cent of the total. Reports on city relief expenditures are incomplete but they were expected to total between about $7 million.

FATHER'S DAY

It is good to celebrate Father's Day—
Give him credit for good things he has done;
Life for him not always bed of roses,
Good living not always easily won;
He enjoys a lot of praise and loving,
Good food and made to feel that he is boss;
Don't forget father if he is living—
If gone, you will not forget his loss.

Ohio's Wheat May Average 25½ Bushels

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has predicted that Ohio wheat growers will average 25½ bushels to the acre of this year's crop.

The federal experts put the Buckeye State's total 1956 production at 37,918,000 bushels. The forecast came as the department said the over-all national production would be 922,672,000 bushels.

This is the first estimate for the full crop and compares with 938,159,000 produced last year and 1,146,547,000 for the 10-year (1945-54) average.

The winter wheat crop was forecast at 670,375,000 bushels compared with 681,432,000 indicated a month ago. Production last year was 705,372,000 bushels and the 10-year average 872,635,000.

The forecast for the spring wheat crop—the first of the season—was 252,297,000 bushels compared with 232,787,000 produced last year and 273,912,000 for the 10-year average.

The wheat crop, like those of the previous two years, is being grown under rigid government marketing quotas designed to produce not more than about 900 million bushels. Reserve and surplus stocks equivalent to an average size crop have been accumulated under price support programs.

Detroit, 71, Said Counterfeiter

DETROIT (AP)—Social Security and old age assistance payments were not enough to furnish 71-year-old Paul Eifert with what he considered a fair standard of living, so he began turning out homemade $10 bills.

He was sentenced Monday to three years in prison for possessing counterfeit money.

Eifert's 82-year-old partner Paul Carro was put on probation for one year. He was arrested May 8 and accused of passing a bogus $10 bill at Ft. Miami race track in Toledo, Ohio.

The two men pleaded guilty.

Ohio Hog Prices Showing Decline

COLUMBUS (AP)—The trend in live hog prices again was slightly lower last week, the Ohio Department of Agriculture says.

Prices averaged $17.65 per hundredweight against the previous week's $17.81 average. Sow prices were mostly steady last week.

Hog prices ran into a decrease in demand and slipped from an $18.00-18.25 high on Wednesday to $17.00-17.25 at Friday's close. This was the low market so far for June and the lowest since May 18.

2 Men Held In Slaying Of 'Stool Pigeon'

BOSTON (AP)—Two men were booked today on suspicion of murder in the gangland-style slaying of an ex-convict who divulged information to the FBI about the Brink's robbery.

The victim was William J. Cameron, 49, a Dorchester district hoodlum whose body was found yesterday in his parked car at the rear of a Navy barracks building on the Boston waterfront.

Booked were Thomas J. Ballou, 27, of Quincy, who was free on $20,000 bail on an indictment of being an accessory in the Brink's robbery, and Thomas A. Callahan, 50, waterfront "tough guy."

Police said they have information that Callahan recently beat Cameron severely after accusing him of being a "stool pigeon."

Ballou was indicted less than a month ago after authorities accused him of serving as courier for Thomas F. Richardson, 48, and James I. Faherty, 44, while both lay in hiding in a Roxbury district tenement.

Richardson and Faherty were the last to be captured of the 10 men in custody on charges of being the Brink's robbers.

Cameron's body was slouched under the dashboard of his car with two bullet holes in his head.

An official said Cameron apparently never got the money he was promised for hiring the Boston apartment and went to the FBI after several attempts to collect his "fee" from Faherty.

Bank Chief, Wife Drive Off Bandit

STOCKBRIDGE, Ga. (AP)—A wide search was in progress today for a bandit who tried to rob the Citizens Bank of Stockbridge Monday and was driven off by the blazing pistols of the bank president and his wife.

The robber apparently was wounded before he escaped in a car from this town about 25 miles southeast of Atlanta.

Mrs. Charles T. Loder, 45-year-old cashier and wife of the bank president, said the man looked very much like the gunman who robbed the bank of $4,500 May 4, 1955, and never was captured.

"I shot four times," she said. Loder, 46, said he fired at the man five times.

Detroit Talks A Lot About Auto Layoffs

Few Kind Words Heard
Regarding Situation In Heart Of Big Industry

By SAM DAWSON
DETROIT (AP) — They talk here about layoffs in the auto plants the same way they do about the weather — few kind words for either. And they aren't sure yet which to blame for slow business.

The weather could improve. But Detroiters seem pretty sure today that layoff effects on trade, on relief rolls, evictions, repossessions, community life in many ways, and especially on other cities where ears or parts are made, will get worse before it gets better.

The city, the state and the industry, however, firmly contend that the trend will be reversed when new model production starts in the fall.

Until now the bad spring weather seemed the better whipping boy. Merchants point out there were six inches of rain in May, which dampened sales quite as much as the growing total of the jobless.

Hope that the layoff pay plan will cushion the blow is still to be tested. One of the big three auto companies says that the reserve fund it built up — at five cents for each hour worked by each employee since last June — will provide jobless pay benefits for a maximum of four weeks.

The United Auto Workers Union figures that since May 2, the date at which layoffs count in the plan, about 20,000 workers have been furloughed in states in which the supplemental unemployment benefit program is in force. State rulings in Ohio, Indiana and Virginia keep SUB from applying directly there.

Since seniority rules apply, and only those who have worked for at least a year come under it, just part of these 20,000 are eligible and they are a small small fraction of the 185,000 laid off around the nation, most of them prior to May 2.

Under the labor contract SUB became effective June 1, but it is today that the majority of those eligible are applying for the first time at the auto plant pay windows for their benefits.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, says the union has worked hard in recent weeks to tell members just who is eligible and for how much. He says it will try hard next time contract talks come up, in 1958, to increase both the amount and the length of payments.

Detroit's relief rolls are beginning to mount. The public welfare department reports a marked upturn in the number of applications from those whose unemployment benefits have run their 26-week course. In January there were only 61. In May there were 549 such applications.

The total of families on the relief rolls in May was 4,655, compared with 3,813 in January. But the over-all number of applications for relief, from persons in all industries, increased very little in May — other fields offset the slack in the auto industry.

The official count of auto layoffs in Detroit itself comes to 69,000. Detroiters, however, note that in addition to its proud title of auto capital, the city has enough diversification of industry to offset somewhat the auto slowdown. Still, layoffs or weather, retail sales have slackened. Early reports on downtown department store sales show May volume off 3.4 per cent from last year and their suburban stores off 0.2 per cent.

Landlords are beginning to fret. Some tenants can't pay their rent, some can pay only part. Electric power consumption in the Detroit area is running behind last year, although nationwide it's 11 per cent above a year ago.

There is wide belief here, however, that the layoff crisis will crest in the model changeover period in late summer, and that the 1957 car production will reduce the number of jobless.

At the moment, however, it isn't pleasant for the workers, the cities or the companies.

Health For All

NEW TOOLS

Sometimes it seems that man is a constant struggle with the machines he invents. He creates the monster, and then for awhile he is scared to death of what it will do to him. He finally learns how to use it. It becomes one more of his tools for better living.

Back in 1895 when Conrad Roentgen announced the discovery of the X-ray, there was a sensation. Newspaper and magazine writers, fascinated by the possibilities, published bizarre speculations on the uses to which this strange ray could be put. They were serenely untroubled by scientific fact, so that what they wrote had all the charm of fantasy and the excitement of flying saucers.

Serious Victorians were horrified. There was something not quite "nice" about the whole thing. Enterprising British merchants sold X-ray proof underclothes to fastidious ladies. A bill was introduced into the New Jersey legislature prohibiting the use of "X-ray opera glasses" at the theatre.

In time the sensation died down, of course, and people came to accept the X-ray for the valuable medical tool it is. Nowadays, the X-ray bus comes to town and we all troop over and get in line. In less than a minute the machine takes a picture that will indicate whether or not we have healthy chests. We know that many unsuspected cases of tuberculosis have been discovered in this way. We know that many lives have been saved because of early discovery of TB by the X-ray.

It's odd to recall the words of an editorial in a 19th century magazine commenting on the "revolting indecencies" of the X-ray. "Perhaps the best thing would be for all civilized nations to combine to burn all works on the roentgen rays."

There are times when we may feel the same about atomic energy or automation. It's a fair hope that, in 50 years, those inventions, too, will be quiet servants of man's welfare.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by: The Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Mrs. Edward G. Robinson To Toss Out Art And Hubby

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tonight Mrs. Edward G. Robinson is tossing a wake for the most fabulous private art collection in Western America.

Next month she is scheduled to file suit for divorce from the famed Little Caesar of films. That means dissolution of the art treasures the Robinsons have collected for a quarter century.

Two bars, six buffet tables and a company of cabaret performers will be supplied tonight for a black tie party in the grand Hollywood tradition at the Robinson's Beverly Hills home. Among the invited guests are Elizabeth Taylor and Michael Wilding, Montgomery Clift, Susan Hayward, the Van Johnsons and Jose Ferrer and Rosemary Clooney. Missing will be Robinson, who is in a New York play.

"It will be the last stand," said Mrs. Robinson. "I am going to sell the house and move into a three-room apartment. After 23 years of it I'm tired of being a curator of an art museum."

What will happen to the art? "That depends on the settlement," she explained. "But I presume we will have them appraised and then divide them up evenly on a strictly cash basis. I can choose one and then he can choose one."

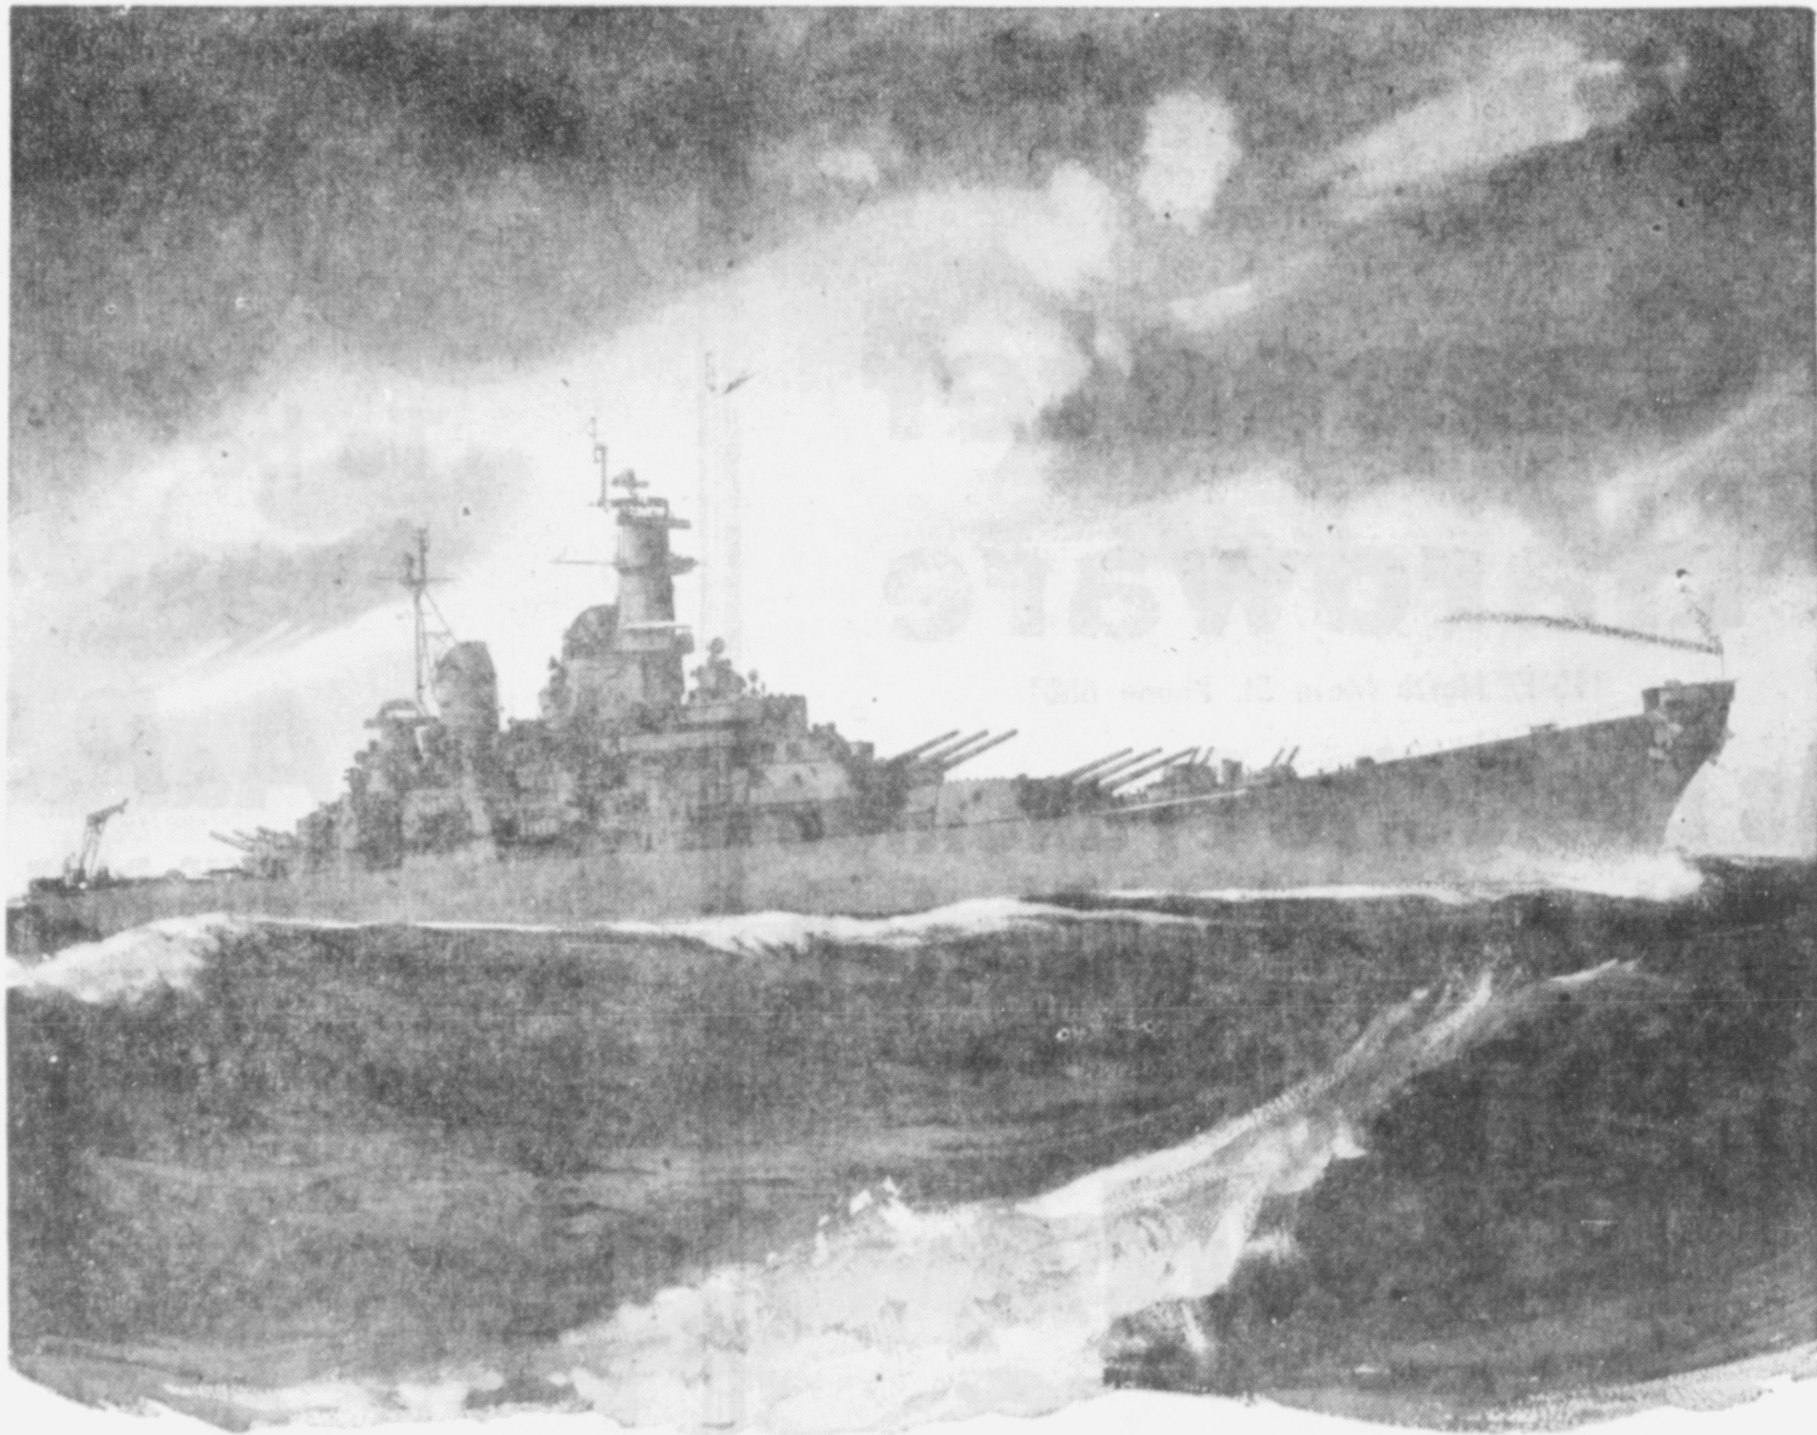

"He can have one Van Gogh and I'll have one. He can have one Toulouse Lautrec. Fortunately, we have two of each."

Mrs. Robinson, a famed artist in her own right, said she had been flooded with offers from art dealers all over the world. But she doesn't intend to dispose of her share of the art. She plans to keep some in her apartment, loan the rest to museums and sell one a year for income.

She gave me a preview of what guests will see tonight. All through the house, including the halls and bathrooms, were paintings and sculpture that would thrill any art lover. A fabulous Corot, "L'italienne," worth more than $250,000 — "Lord Rothmere twice sent me blank checks for it" — a striking pink "Horsemen on the Beach" by Gauguin — "John Huston has been trying to get it from me" — the original Toulouse Lautrec poster of Jane Avril — a Degas sculpture of a ballet girl, 1 of 12 in the world and other rare works of art.

Texas Eastern helps put backbone in a battleship

TEXAS EASTERN SERVES THE COMPANIES THAT SERVE YOU
Philadelphia Gas Works, a Texas Eastern customer, supplies the gas used at the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard. A complete gun turret, stress-relieved in a gas-fired furnace, is pictured here being lowered into place on a U.S. cruiser.

Texas Eastern transports natural gas via pipeline from the Southwest to help in the job of building fighting ships that can withstand the stresses and shock of battle action. At the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard huge gas-fired furnaces are used to stress-relieve castings, forgings and complete gun turret, bow and stern assemblies. The stress-relieving of these giant units gives added backbone and muscle to the structure and operating parts. Gas is used because the atmosphere and temperature can be exactly controlled... and because gas does the job economically. Today thousands of homes and industries depend upon this modern fuel, because Texas Eastern makes it available, abundantly.

Hope that the layoff plan will cushion the blow is still to be tested. One of the big three auto companies says that the reserve fund it built up — at five cents for each hour worked by each employee since last June — will provide jobless pay benefits for a maximum of four weeks.

The United Auto Workers Union figures that since May 2, the date at which layoffs count in the plan, about 20,000 workers have been furloughed in states in which the supplemental unemployment benefit program is in force. State rulings in Ohio, Indiana and Virginia keep SUB from applying directly there.

Since seniority rules apply, and only those who have worked for at least a year come under it, just part of these 20,000 are eligible and they are a small small fraction of the 185,000 laid off around the nation, most of them prior to May 2.

Under the labor contract SUB became effective June 1, but it is today that the majority of those eligible are applying for the first time at the auto plant pay windows for their benefits.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, says the union has worked hard in recent weeks to tell members just who is eligible and for how much. He says it will try hard next time contract talks come up, in 1958, to increase both the amount and the length of payments.

Detroit's relief rolls are beginning to mount. The public welfare department reports a marked upturn in the number of applications from those whose unemployment benefits have run their 26-week course. In January there were only 61. In May there were 549 such applications.

The total of families on the relief rolls in May was 4,655, compared with 3,813 in January. But the over-all number of applications for relief, from persons in all industries, increased very little in May — other fields offset the slack in the auto industry.

The official count of auto layoffs in Detroit itself comes to 69,000. Detroiters, however, note that in addition to its proud title of auto capital, the city has enough diversification of industry to offset somewhat the auto slowdown. Still, layoffs or weather, retail sales have slackened. Early reports on downtown department store sales show May volume off 3.4 per cent from last year and their suburban stores off 0.2 per cent.

Landlords are beginning to fret. Some tenants can't pay their rent, some can pay only part. Electric power consumption in the Detroit area is running behind last year, although nationwide it's 11 per cent above a year ago.

There is wide belief here, however, that the layoff crisis will crest in the model changeover period in late summer, and that the 1957 car production will reduce the number of jobless.

At the moment, however, it isn't pleasant for the workers, the cities or the companies.

NEW TOOLS

Sometimes it seems that man is a constant struggle with the machines he invents. He creates the monster, and then for awhile he is scared to death of what it will do to him. He finally learns how to use it. It becomes one more of his tools for better living.

Back in 1895 when Conrad Roentgen announced the discovery of the X-ray, there was a sensation. Newspaper and magazine writers, fascinated by the possibilities, published bizarre speculations on the uses to which this strange ray could be put. They were serenely untroubled by scientific fact, so that what they wrote had all the charm of fantasy and the excitement of flying saucers.

Serious Victorians were horrified. There was something not quite "nice" about the whole thing. Enterprising British merchants sold X-ray proof underclothes to fastidious ladies. A bill was introduced into the New Jersey legislature prohibiting the use of "X-ray opera glasses" at the theatre.

In time the sensation died down, of course, and people came to accept the X-ray for the valuable medical tool it is. Nowadays, the X-ray bus comes to town and we all troop over and get in line. In less than a minute the machine takes a picture that will indicate whether or not we have healthy chests. We know that many unsuspected cases of tuberculosis have been discovered in this way. We know that many lives have been saved because of early discovery of TB by the X-ray.

It's odd to recall the words of an editorial in a 19th century magazine commenting on the "revolting indecencies" of the X-ray. "Perhaps the best thing would be for all civilized nations to combine to burn all works on the roentgen rays."

There are times when we may feel the same about atomic energy or automation. It's a fair hope that, in 50 years, those inventions, too, will be quiet servants of man's welfare.

Home Ec Prof Likes To Eat Out

KINGSTON, R. I. (AP) — Sara E. Coyne, associate professor of home economics at the University of Rhode Island for 31 years, confesses she'd rather eat out than cook for herself.

In announcing her retirement she said she prefers eating in restaurants because "it's not practical to cook for oneself, especially doing the dishes."

Mrs. Edward G. Robinson To Toss Out Art And Hubby

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tonight Mrs. Edward G. Robinson is tossing a wake for the most fabulous private art collection in Western America.

Next month she is scheduled to file suit for divorce from the famed Little Caesar of films. That means dissolution of the art treasures the Robinsons have collected for a quarter century.

Two bars, six buffet tables and a company of cabaret performers will be supplied tonight for a black tie party in the grand Hollywood tradition at the Robinson's Beverly Hills home. Among the invited guests are Elizabeth Taylor and Michael Wilding, Montgomery Clift, Susan Hayward, the Van Johnsons and Jose Ferrer and Rosemary Clooney. Missing will be Robinson, who is in a New York play.

"It will be the last stand," said Mrs. Robinson. "I am going to sell the house and move into a three-room apartment. After 23 years of it I'm tired of being a curator of an art museum."

What will happen to the art? "That depends on the settlement," she explained. "But I presume we will have them appraised and then divide them up evenly on a strictly cash basis. I can choose one and then he can choose one."

"He can have one Van Gogh and I'll have one. He can have one Toulouse Lautrec. Fortunately, we have two of each."

Mrs. Robinson, a famed artist in her own right, said she had been flooded with offers from art dealers all over the world. But she doesn't intend to dispose of her share of the art. She plans to keep some in her apartment, loan the rest to museums and sell one a year for income.

She gave me a preview of what guests will see tonight. All through the house, including the halls and bathrooms, were paintings and sculpture that would thrill any art lover. A fabulous Corot, "L'italienne," worth more than $250,000 — "Lord Rothmere twice sent me blank checks for it" — a striking pink "Horsemen on the Beach" by Gauguin — "John Huston has been trying to get it from me" — the original Toulouse Lautrec poster of Jane Avril. A Degas sculpture of a ballet girl, 1 of 12 in the world and other rare works of art.

Texas Eastern helps put backbone in a battleship

TEXAS EASTERN SERVES THE COMPANIES THAT SERVE YOU
Philadelphia Gas Works, a Texas Eastern customer, supplies the gas used at the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard. A complete gun turret, stress-relieved in a gas-fired furnace, is pictured here being lowered into place on a U.S. cruiser.

Texas Eastern transports natural gas via pipeline from the Southwest to help in the job of building fighting ships that can withstand the stresses and shock of battle action. At the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard huge gas-fired furnaces are used to stress-relieve castings, forgings and complete gun turret, bow and stern assemblies. The stress-relieving of these giant units gives added backbone and muscle to the structure and operating parts. Gas is used because the atmosphere and temperature can be exactly controlled... and because gas does the job economically. Today thousands of homes and industries depend upon this modern fuel, because Texas Eastern makes it available, abundantly.

Who'd Thought Reds, Bucs To Lead League?

Long-Time Also-Rans Set For 2 Game Series In First Place Battle

CINCINNATI (AP) — Who would have thought that the Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates would be playing a crucial game for first place this late in the season? The teams begin a two-game series here tonight with the Reds leading a half game in front.

A year ago today, Cincinnati had a 21-28 record and was 17½ games behind the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers. The Pirates had 17-36 and were 24½ lengths removed from the top rung.

Pittsburgh nominated Bob Friend, the winningest pitcher in either league this year with 10 victories, to oppose Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall, a 17-game winner last year, but a slow starter in 1956.

Friend has taken over as the "mostest" National League pitcher from Philadelphia's Robin Roberts. Friend has won the most games, 10; has pitched the most innings, 122; the most complete games, nine; the most strikeouts, 71, and has the best earned run average, 2.65.

The Reds had a day off yesterday, but hung onto their National League lead with an assist by Brooklyn's Dodgers.

The Dodgers topped the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-6, and kept the Cards from pushing Cincinnati out of the lead.

Cincinnati's lead was menaced after two straight losses last week to the Dodgers, the first losses to Brooklyn this season.

Redleg brass breathed a little easier after Brooks Lawrence's pitching hand injury last Sunday turned out not serious.

Lawrence is one of the pitching short Reds' four regular starters and has the best record so far—seven wins without a loss.

If he were knocked out of action for very long, it would place heavy burden on the rest of the pitching staff.

The big Springfield, Ohio, right-hander suffered a jammed thumb when a liner struck his hand in the first inning Sunday.

But trainer Wayne Anderson said ice controlled the thumbs' swelling and Lawrence should be able to start his next turn.

Tom Brewer, the kid right-hander, was almost forgotten in pre-season talk of Boston's pennant potential, but now he's the ace of the Red Sox staff and the only American League pitcher with nine victories.

An 11-10 record last season and a 10-9 mark in 1954 put Brewer in the shadows. Now he's sailing free and easy, with a 2-38 earned run average, eight straight victories and six complete games in his 11 starts. What's more, he has Cleveland's Indians stuffed in his hip pocket.

He set down the second-place Tribe on three hits Monday night 5-1 for his seventh straight verdict over the Indians, the third this season. He didn't give a hit after a fourth-inning double by Vic Wertz as the Sox salvaged a split in the day-night double-header. Porterfield gave the Tribe only four hits in the day game, but three of 'em were home runs and Cleveland took it 4-1.

Baltimore replaced Detroit in fifth, by one point, edging the Tigers 5-4. Washington split a two-night twin bill with Kansas City, winning 4-3, then losing 6-3. New York and Chicago were idle.

St. Louis blew a chance for the National League lead, losing to Brooklyn 8-6 as the Dodgers moved into fourth place while Milwaukee slumped to fifth in a 6-2 defeat by Philadelphia. St. Louis fell from second to third behind Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, idle with New York and Chicago.

Brewer had two singles and drove in the deciding run Monday night against loser Mike (4-6) Garcia after Jackie Jensen had tied it 1-all with his sixth homer. Ted Williams had two doubles in Boston's 10 hits.

The Cardinals chipped in three unearned runs as the Dodgers scored four in the eighth, then fed it with Randy Jackson's two-run double in the ninth. Tom Poholsky lost his fourth straight while Don Newcombe won his ninth with Clem Labine's relief. Snider had two homers and a single for three RBIs for the Brooks.

While the Dodgers, who benched slump-ridden Roy Campanella, were making it seven victories in nine games, the Braves were dropping their ninth decision in last 12—all at home. Stu Miller, the ex-Card, put his lifetime mark at 8-2 against Milwaukee while Gene Conley lost his third. The Phils packed it away with three in the fifth on four singles and Gran Hamner's double.

Frank Lary, the kid who beats the Yankees, was bopped for three Baltimore runs in the first and the clinching markers in the fifth on Bob Nieman's two-run homer. Hee Brown won his third in relief.

A three-run pinch homer by Carlos Paula beat reliever Bobby Shantz and the A's in the eighth-inning of the opener, in which Johnny Groth's two homers accounted for the Kansas City runs. Pete Ramos won it in relief. Alex Kellner won the nightcap, giving himself two runs on a single.

Good Hope Triumphs Over Seals, 15-12

Good Hope's Babe Ruth League team got off to a head start Monday evening at city park when they edged out the Insurance Association Seals, 15-12, in a six-inning opening day ball game.

The Good Hope victory came only after the home team had a 6-0 first inning lead.

Both teams played wild and woolly ball throughout the whole game, and no decision was final until the end of the game. The Seals kept bouncing back, after runs and runs were scored on them.

Pitcher Gary Grim played flashy ball for the Good Hope nine in the contest, striking out 7, walking 7 and picking up two one-baggers in a single inning. He also took part in the game's only double play, going from him to Perrill Woods to Gary Brown.

Every boy on the Insurance Association nine picked up at least one run with two — Ron Wilt and Carl Kesner — picking up two apiece.

Patterson's Pilot Says Moore 'Easy'

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, thinks old folks Archie Moore will present a relatively easy problem.

"We think Moore is an easier far easier, fighter for Patterson than Hurricane Jackson was," D'Amato said today. "We certainly will not consider it a lucky break for us if we have to put off the fight until a later date."

D'Amato was referring to Patterson's broken right hand, a direct result of the Jackson fight last Friday. D'Amato is going on the theory that the injury will heal in time to fight Moore for the heavyweight title.

"Don't get me wrong," continued the voluble D'Amato. "Moore is dangerous because he is a puncher who can knock you out with one punch. But Jackson, so much younger and stronger, is far rougher than Moore. We knew we had a difficult problem in Jackson. We have no such problem in Moore."

"You know, when we first started talking about the title, I told the IBC people that we'd rather fight Moore before Jackson. Then I changed my mind. I began thinking that if we fought Moore first and knocked him out or beat him, everyone would say Rocky Marciano had softened him for us."

Bloomington Boys Win Opening Game

Bloomington's Babe Ruth Leaguers swamped the Medics 16 to 4 in their opener at Bloomington Monday evening to serve notice that they will be one of the teams to beat for the title.

Inability of the Medics to connect with the slants of Bloomington's two hurlers, Oberschlake and Snyder, and a leaky defense were the two major factors contributing to their defeat. The five misuses by the Medics were only part of the reasons for the scoring by the Bloomington boys; they were unable to cover as much ground in the field as their opponents, but much of that was blamed on first game nervousness.

On the other hand, the Bloomington boys had little trouble getting to the offerings of Lee and Garrison for 9 solid hits.

They lost no time in sewing up the game as they tallied 7 times in the first inning and 8 in the second. After that, the Medics settled down and held them to a single run in the last two innings.

The Medics, once they collected themselves, not only tightened their defenses, but also started hitting and scored all 4 of their runs in the fourth, and last inning.

The game was called in the fourth because of darkness.

The Medics played Jeffersonville in the park at Washington C. H. Wednesday and the Bloomington team plays the next game to Good Hope Thursday.

The manager of the Medics is Red Reno and of the Bloomington is Jack Sollars.

16.6 Pounds Candy Said US Average

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you ate more than 16.6 pounds of candy last year, you ate more than your share. The Commerce Department says that was an average consumption per person in 1955, as the confectionery industry turned out 2,724,000,000 pounds of candy and set a new dollar sales record of $1,031,000,000.

Split Decision Fails To Help Tribe In AL

BOSTON (AP)—The Cleveland Indians played the Boston Red Sox in a day-night doubleheader yesterday and ended up right where they started—three and a half games behind the idle New York Yankees in the American League standings.

The Indians made all their hits count in the first game, getting four runs on four hits to take a 4-1 decision. Three of the hits were home runs by Al Smith, Al Rosen and Chico Carrasquel. The other was a double by Bob Avila.

Tom Brewer won his seventh straight decision over the Indians (four last year and three this season) as Boston took the night game, 5-1.

Brewer gave up a run on a walk and singles by Rocky Colavito and Jim Busby in the second inning. A double by Vic Wertz off Ted Williams glove in the fourth inning was the only other hit Cleveland got off Brewer.

Jackie Jensen's homer touched off a 10-hit Boston attack in the nightcap. All five runs were scored against Mike Garcia, who was relieved in the fifth inning by Bob Feller. Garcia now has a 4-6 record.

Feller came in with two men on base and retired the last two batters in the fifth. He then pitched three scoreless innings, allowing three hits.

Cal McLish, who got the starting assignment for the Tribe in the day game after Art Houtteman's sore shoulder continued to bother him, won his second game against two defeats. But he had to have help from Ray Narleski.

Poirer, Ortega May Tangle Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Matchmaker Teddy Brenner today planned to rematch Mexico's Gaspar Ortega and Gene Poirer at Niagara Falls, N. Y., and well he might.

They are both action-plus club-fighters and they staged a stirring 10-rounder here last night.

Ortega, the 6-5 favorite, was awarded a split decision in a tightly-fought contest.

Referee Ray Miller (5-3-2) and Judge Joe Eppy (6-4) each scored for Ortega. Judge Nick Gamboli had it even, giving each five rounds and five points.

Don Heinrich, former University of Washington quarterback, scored two touchdowns for the New York Giants in 1955. Both were on keeper plays. He also passed for two touchdowns.

Bray's Win Opener From Jeffersonville

Bray's Sports Center team opened its Babe Ruth League season with a 7 to 2 victory over the Jeffersonville boys on the Jeffersonville lot Monday evening before an enthusiastic crowd befitting the occasion.

The victory was clinched by the Bray outfit with one fat inning—the fourth, in which they tallied 6 runs. With the exception of that one lapse of the Jeffersonville aggregation, it was a nip and tuck game.

That game winning rally was sparked by a double by Mike Lawrence with the bases loaded. Larry Noon also connected for a double.

Preston Bentley must have set some sort of record that will stand for many a day when he drew three walks and was hit by a pitched ball in four trips to the plate. Thus, he got on four times without ever hitting the ball. And, he scored 2 runs.

The pitching was exceptionally good for the first game; each team was held to 4 hits.

Southworth, on the hill for the Bray boys, fanned 10 and walked five and Cook, pitching for the Jeffersonville crew, struck out 8, walked 6 and hit one batter.

Jeff's next game is with the Medics in Washington C. H. Wednesday and the Bray team will take the field for their next game against the Medics Monday.

Martin O'Call is the manager of the Bray team and Kenny Robinet of the Jeffersonville crew.

Who'd Thought Reds, Bucs To Lead League?

Long-Time Also-Rans Set For 2 Game Series In First Place Battle

CINCINNATI (AP) — Who would have thought that the Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates would be playing a crucial game for first place this late in the season? The teams begin a two-game series here tonight with the Reds leading a half game in front.

A year ago today, Cincinnati had a 21-28 record and was 17½ games behind the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers. The Pirates had 17-36 and were 24½ lengths removed from the top rung.

Pittsburgh nominated Bob Friend, the winningest pitcher in either league this year with 10 victories, to oppose Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall, a 17-game winner last year, but a slower starter in 1956.

Friend has taken over as the "mostest" National League pitcher from Philadelphia's Robin Roberts. Friend has won the most games, 122; the most complete games, nine; the most strikeouts, 71, and has the best earned run average, 2.65.

The Reds had a day off yesterday, but hung onto their National League lead with an assist by Brooklyn's Dodgers.

The Dodgers topped the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-6, and kept the Cards from pushing Cincinnati out of the lead.

Cincinnati's lead was menaced after two straight losses last weekend to the Dodgers, the first losses to Brooklyn this season.

Redleg brass breathed a little easier after Brooks Lawrence's pitching hand injury last Sunday turned out not serious.

Lawrence is one of the pitching short Reds' four regular starters and has the best record so far—seven wins without a loss.

If he were knocked out of action for very long, it would place heavy burden on the rest of the pitching staff.

The big Springfield, Ohio, right-hander suffered a jammed thumb when a liner struck his hand in the first inning Sunday.

But trainer Wayne Anderson said ice controlled the thumbs' swelling and Lawrence should be able to start his next turn.

Tom Brewer, the kid right-hander, was almost forgotten in pre-season talk of Boston's pennant potential, but now he's the ace of the Red Sox staff and the only American League pitcher with nine victories.

An 11-10 record last season and a 10-9 mark in 1954 put Brewer in the shadows. Now he's sailing free and easy, with a 2-38 earned run average, eight straight victories and six complete games in his 11 starts. What's more, he has Cleveland's Indians stuffed in his hip pocket.

He set down the second-place Tribe on three hits Monday night 5-1 for his seventh straight verdict over the Indians, the third this season. He didn't give a hit after a fourth-inning double by Vic Wertz as the Sox salvaged a split in their day-night doubleheader. Porterfield gave the Tribe only four hits in the day game, but three of 'em were home runs and Cleveland took it 4-1.

Baltimore replaced Detroit in fifth, by one point, edging the Tigers 5-4. Washington split a two-night twin bill with Kansas City, winning 4-3, then losing 6-3. New York and Chicago were idle.

St. Louis blew a chance for the National League lead, losing to Brooklyn 8-6 as the Dodgers moved into fourth place while Milwaukee slumped to fifth in a 6-2 defeat by Philadelphia. St. Louis fell from second to third behind Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, idle with New York and Chicago.

Brewer had two singles and drove in the deciding run Monday night against loser Mike (4-6) Garcia after Jackie Jensen had tied it 1-1 with his sixth homer. Ted Williams had two doubles in Boston's 10 hits.

The Cardinals chipped in three unearned runs as the Dodgers scored four in the eighth, then led it with Randy Jackson's two-run double in the ninth. Tom Poholsky lost his fourth straight while Don Newcombe won his single for three RBIs for the Braves.

While the Dodgers, who benched slump-ridden Roy Campanella, were making it seven victories in nine games, the Braves were dropping their ninth decision in last 12—all at home. Stu Miller, the ex-Card, put his lifetime mark at 8-2 against Milwaukee while Gene Conley lost his third. The Phils packed it away with three in the fifth on four singles and Gran Hamner's double.

Frank Lary, the kid who beats the Yankees, was bopped for three Baltimore runs in the first and the clinching markers in the fifth on Bob Nieman's two-run homer. Hee Brown won his third in relief.

A three-run pinch homer by Carlos Paula beat reliever Bobby Shantz and the A's in the eighth-inning of the opener, in which Johnny Groth's two homers accounted for the Kansas City runs.

Pete Ramos won it in relief. Alex Keffner won the nightcap, giving himself two runs on a single.

Good Hope Triumphs Over Seals, 15-12

Good Hope's Babe Ruth League team got off to a head start Monday evening at city park when they edged out the Insurance Association Seals, 15-12, in a six-inning opening day ball game.

The Good Hope victory came only after the home team had a 6-0 first inning lead.

Both teams played wild and woolly ball throughout the whole game, and no decision was final until the end of the game. The Seals kept bouncing back, after runs and runs were scored on them.

Pitcher Gary Grim played flashy ball for the Good Hope nine in the contest, striking out 7, walking 7 and picking up two one-baggers in a single inning. He also took part in the game's only double play, going from him to Perrill Woods to Gary Brown.

Every boy on the Insurance Association nine picked up at least one run with two — Ron Wilt and Carl Kesner — picking up two apiece.

Patterson's Pilot Says Moore 'Easy'

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, thinks old folks Archie Moore will present a relatively easy problem.

"We think Moore is an easier, far easier, fighter for Patterson than Hurricane Jackson was," D'Amato said today. "We certainly will not consider it a lucky break for us if we have to put off the fight until a later date."

D'Amato was referring to Patterson's broken right hand, a direct result of the Jackson fight last Friday. D'Amato is going on the theory that the injury will heal in time to fight Moore for the heavyweight title.

"Don't get me wrong," continued the voluble D'Amato. "Moore is dangerous because he is a puncher who can knock you out with one punch. But Jackson, so much younger and stronger, is far rougher than Moore. We knew we had a difficult problem in Jackson. We have no such problem in Moore."

"You know, when we first started talking about the title, I told the IBC people that we'd rather fight Moore before Jackson. Then I changed my mind. I began thinking that if we fought Moore first and knocked him out or beat him, everyone would say Rocky Marciano had softened him for us."

Bloomington Boys Win Opening Game

Bloomington's Babe Ruth League swamped the Medics 16 to 4 in their opener at Bloomington Monday evening to serve notice that they will be one of the teams to beat for the title.

Inability of the Medics to connect with the slants of Bloomington's two hurlers, Oberschlake and Snyder, and a leaky defense were the two major factors contributing to their defeat. The five misuses by the Medics were only part of the reasons for the scoring by the Bloomington boys; they were unable to cover as much ground in the field as their opponents, but much of that was blamed on first game nervousness.

On the other hand, the Bloomington boys had little trouble getting to the offerings of Lee and Garrison for 9 solid hits.

They lost no time in sewing up the game as they tallied 7 times in the first inning and 8 in the second. After that, the Medics settled down and held them to a single run in the last two innings.

The Medics, once they collected themselves, not only tightened their defenses, but also started hitting and scored all 4 of their runs in the fourth, and last, inning.

The game was called in the fourth because of darkness.

The Medics play Jeffersonville in the park at Washington C. H. Wednesday and the Bloomington team plays the next game to Good Hope Thursday.

The manager of the Medics is Jack Sollars.

16.6 Pounds Candy Said US Average

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you ate more than 16.6 pounds of candy last year, you ate more than your share. The Commerce Department says that was an average consumption per person in 1955, as the confectionery industry turned out 2,724,000,000 pounds of candy and set a new dollar sales record of $1,031,000,000.

Split Decision Fails To Help Tribe In AL

BOSTON (AP)—The Cleveland Indians played the Boston Red Sox in a day-night doubleheader yesterday and ended up right where they started—three and a half games behind the idle New York Yankees in the American League standings.

The Indians made all their hits count in the first game, getting four runs on four hits to take a 4-1 decision. Three of the hits were home runs by Al Smith, Al Rosen and Chico Carrasquel. The other was a double by Bob Avila.

Tom Brewer won his seventh straight decision over the Indians (four last year and three this season) as Boston took the night game, 5-1.

Brewer gave up a run on a walk and singles by Rocky Colavito and Jim Busby in the second inning. A double by Vic Wertz off Ted Williams glove in the fourth inning was the only other hit Cleveland got off Brewer.

Jackie Jensen's homer touched off a 10-hit Boston attack in the nightcap. All five runs were scored against Mike Garcia, who was relieved in the fifth inning by Bob Feller. Garcia now has a 4-6 record.

Feller came in with two men on base and retired the last two batters in the fifth. He then pitched three scoreless innings, allowing three hits.

Cal McLish, who got the starting assignment for the Tribe in the day game after Art Houtman's sore shoulder continued to bother him, won his second game against two defeats. But he had to have help from Ray Narleski.

Poirer, Ortega May Tangle Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Matchmaker Teddy Brenner today planned to rematch Mexico's Gaspar Ortega and Gene Poirer of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and well he might.

They are both action-plus club-fighters and they staged a stirring 10-rounder here last night.

Ortega, the 6-5 favorite, was awarded a split decision in a tightly-fought contest.

Referee Ray Miller (5-3-2) and Judge Joe Eppy (6-4) each scored for Ortega. Judge Nick Gamboli had it even, giving each five rounds and five points.

3 Bobcats Place On Star Team

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Conference coaches picked three players from Ohio University's champions on the Mid-American Conference baseball team.

Bill Tewksbury, Ohio catcher, and Lowell Johnson, Western Michigan outfielder, were unanimous choices.

The first team:
First base, Russ Bierly, Toledo; second base, Norb Krings, Western Michigan; third base, Sam Tisci, Toledo; shortstop, Charles McDaniels, Miami; outfielders, Johnson, Scotty Griesheimer, Ohio, Bill Atherton, Miami and Fred Hansen, Bowling Green; catcher, Tewksbury; pitchers, Ralph Nuzum, Ohio and Lou Bocci, Kent State.

Martinez Pitted Against DeMarco

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony DeMarco of Boston and Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., two of the hardest hitters in the welterweight division, meet head-on in a Boston 10-round Saturday night that should produce plenty of fireworks.

The 24-year-old DeMarco, who lost his crown to Carmen Basilio, who lost it back to Johnny Saxton, has flattened 27 of his rivals in posting a 43-6-1 record. The 27-year-old Martinez, winner of 21 straight, has stopped 25 of his opponents. Vince's record is 49-3.

Speculation Seen Renewed On Another Term For Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's operation seemed certain today to touch off a month or more of renewed speculation about his candidacy for re-election despite claims from some Republicans that it makes no change.

Several Democrats said they hope he sticks by his Feb. 29 decision to seek a second term, although most concede privately they think their chances would be better against another GOP candidate.

Several of Eisenhower's doctors said they see no reason for him to change his mind if he recovers as they anticipate.

Eisenhower's spokesman, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, brushed aside all political questions.

"I have just one thought in mind, and that is to get the President of the United States out of the hospital," Hagerty said.

"In any event, it seemed likely that Eisenhower might reserve a final decision for the four to six weeks his doctors say he will be required for full convalescence."

SIX WEEKS will expire July 21, about a month before the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Eisenhower has said, with reference to his heart attack last Sept. 24, that if he ever feels he is not up to another term he will say so immediately.

His doctors have declared there is no connection between the heart attack and his new illness.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston specialist who was a consultant to Eisenhower after his heart attack, said the President "should be able to recover quite well and carry on normally."

White talked to newsmen in Winston-Salem, N. C., where he went to make a speech after coming here to consult with other doctors before the operation on Eisenhower. He said "I believe this was, and will have proved to be, a temporary illness that does not need to change" Eisenhower's second-term decision.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who announced Saturday his active candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he sincerely hopes the doctors are correct in saying Eisenhower can run again. He said he does not think the operation "will have any influence" on the campaign.

Adlai E. Stevenson, also seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, said in Chicago he hopes Eisenhower recovers speedily. He said that in campaigning he will not stress Eisenhower's

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Trustees Talk Of Hospital's Urgent Needs

Meeting Demands of Public Becoming A Problem, They Hear

A discussion of general plans, without any major decisions being made, with reference to meeting the future needs of Fayette County Memorial Hospital, occupied the principal attention of the board of trustees of the institution at its regular meeting Monday evening.

A rough preliminary layout of suggested changes in the main hospital building was up for attention. This was furnished by Architect Curtis Insko, of Columbus, with an idea of having hospital authorities, who had requested it, begin a study of what might be done at the least possible expense.

THE SKETCH presented also carried with it some supplemental plans for providing an addition for more rooms and beds as early as a date in the future as could be considered seriously, to meet increasing pressure for more rooms and new facilities for furnishing broader service to the community.

Only four of the board members were present, President Marilyn Riley, George Pensyl, H. P. Boylan and Mrs. Fern Chaffin. Miss Christine Evans, the administrator and Dr. Byers W. Shaw, representing the medical and surgical staff, were in attendance. Trustees Gene Smith and George Campbell were unavoidably absent.

Although the board and the advisory council at earlier meetings had decided that it would be inadvisable to seek a bond issue for general improvements this year, it became clear during Monday night's discussion that some less expensive changes were imminent of urgent importance to meet demands of the present.

HOW SUCH changes could be tied in with a later broader program, and possible ways of financing these first improvements, were talked over at length, but any definite decision was delayed.

Among the things to receive immediate attention was an agreement to have some of the awnings above windows in patients' rooms sent away for repair, but the matter of purchasing new awnings of a more permanent nature was held up until a special committee composed of Boylan and Smith could make a thorough investigation of various types of awnings on which price quotations had been received. The needs for further air conditioning in the hospital was another topic discussed and it was decided that the committee which has been looking into this project, George Pensyl, Gene Smith and Howard Boylan, will make further inquiries.

THE MONTHLY report on hospital operations for May was submitted by the administrator Miss Evans.

It indicated normal business for the month and approximately normal financial income and outgo.

Total admissions for May were 265. In addition there were 39 new born infants in that period at the hospital. The number of outpatients for the month was unusually high, 401. These are patients given service but not requiring a room.

The total patient days for those in rooms were 1683, the high number on any day being 78 and the lowest any day being 40.

Major surgical operations numbered 51 and 80 minor operations were performed.

The hospital laundry 28,645 pounds of laundry for the month. Because of the rush in the laboratory and X-ray departments due to a temporarily short-handed force in those departments, the monthly report there had not been completed in time for the board meeting but will be presented later.

Meeting Thursday For Pomona Grange

Pomona Grange will hold its regular meeting at 8:30 P. M. Thursday in the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium. The fifth degree will be conferred for inspection and Madison Good Will Grange will serve refreshments.

All fifth degree members will be welcomed and those wishing to join Pomona are urged to contact a subordinate master. Grange leaders are reminding members of the current attendance contest and suggest that every effort be made to boost attendance scores.

Executive Committee Elected for Legion

A new executive committee today was ready to take over the administration of the Paul H. Hughes post of the American Legion here.

Eleven committeemen were chosen from among 20 candidates at Monday's annual post election. These eleven plus the retiring commander, Bill Marshall, will make up the 12-member executive committee.

The polls opened at Legion Hall at 4 P. M. and closed at 9 P. M.

After the votes were counted, these Legionnaires were chosen to guide the destinies of the post for the ensuing year: Dr. John Richards, Lee Shonkwer, Henry Lutz, Francis Morgan, Paul Souther, Marion (Dutch) Rife, Charles Mallow, Hugh Gidding, Herbert E. Wilson, R. B. Sharp and Russell Whitely.

As in the past few years, the number of veterans of the second World War is increasing. However, there are still several of the older veterans on the committee. And, there enough with experience in Legion affairs to give the committee complete familiarity with general policies and procedures.

The executive committee is to meet within five days to elect from within its own membership the post officers, from the commander on through the administration.

The new commander will then fill three offices by appointment; he will name the service officer, sergeant-at-arms and chaplain.

The installation date for the new officers has not yet been set definitely.

Funeral Is Held For Billy Blair

Funeral tributes were paid to Billy Blair at funeral services held at the Gerstner Funeral Home at 2 P. M. Monday.

Rev. Austin Merritt, pastor of the House of Prayer in Jeffersonville, who conducted the services, offered prayer, quoted from the Scriptures, delivered the funeral sermon and read a memoir.

Mrs. Kenneth Bonecutter sang "Mourning Grace" and "Beyond the Sunset." Mrs. Marian Grace played the piano accompaniment.

Pallbearers, who also cared for the flowers, were Donald Burke, James Kibler, Robert Freeze, George Conger, Roger Picklesimer and Robert Picklesimer.

Final Tributes Paid Theodore E. Denney

Funeral services for Theodore E. Denney were conducted at the Gerstner Funeral Home at 3:30 P. M. Monday by Dr. Paul Elliott, pastor of McNair Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Elliott offered prayer, delivered the funeral sermon and read the Scriptures and the three hymns, "Take the Name of Jesus With You," "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and "Abide with Me."

The pallbearers, who also took care of the floral remembrances, were Joseph and Howard Hidy, Ralph and John Huff, Thomas Flynn and Donald Campbell.

Interment was in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

About 875,000 Americans play the organ.

WCTU Observes Flower Mission

Program Presented At Childrens Home

Members of the Fayette County Women's Christian Temperance Union observed the Annual Flower Mission Day at the Fayette County Children's Home Sunday afternoon.

Entertainment, furnished by WCTU members and the children themselves, highlighted the program.

A poem, "To The Flag," by Mrs. Eldon Bethards, opened the program, followed by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," and the salute to the flag. Mrs. Leafy Edwards, the County WCTU president, conducted the opening ceremonies and Mrs. Tom Watts led in the devotions.

A recitation was given by Sue Ellen Stephenson the children of the home sang several numbers and Carlene Garret played a piano solo.

"Candle Message," a recitation, was done by Peggy Cook, the four Armbrust children sang a quartette number, and Patty Cook gave the recitation "A Secret."

Gil Garret entertained with a vocal solo, the Armbrust sisters presented a dialog and John Wood did an accordion solo. Julia Brunner gave a recitation, Eddie Curtin, gave a vocal solo and Mrs. Eldon Bethards did "He Walks With Us."

The meeting closed with the WCTU benediction, after which the group members served a treat to the children.

Marilyn Writsel at 4-H Leadership Camp

Marilyn Writsel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Writsel, New Holland, Route 2, is representing Fayette County at the Ohio Junior Leadership Camp near Utica in Licking County, this week.

Close to 150 4-H club members from all over the state are in attendance at the camp.

The week is featuring instruction in song leading, camp counseling, recreation, and sports. Each day there will be crafts, vespers and campfire.

Considerable emphasis will be devoted to developing leadership to meet the world situation of today. This is the eleventh Ohio 4-H Junior Leadership Camp and it is sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service. To be selected for this camp is "quite an honor," according to Associate County Agent Phil Grover.

The camp closes following breakfast next Saturday morning.

Erect Guard Rail On Dayton Avenue

Work of erecting a guard rail along the south side of Oakland Avenue, from the Paint Creek Bridge to Millikan Avenue, was being completed Tuesday, at a cost of around $1,000.

The guard rail serves a two-fold purpose. It protects traffic by preventing vehicles from sliding over the embankment, and also protects those using the park along the street, particularly children who play in that area.

Boy, 2 Drowns In Freak Mishap

STEBENVILLE (AP) — Two-year-old Louis Steffick Jr. drowned last night in a cistern at his home in nearby Smithfield.

The cistern had been covered with planks weighted down by rocks. Louis apparently had picked up a rock, dropped it and then was knocked into the cistern by a bouncing plank. His head was gashed.

New Dry-Storage Eye Bank Gives Sight To 10 Persons

CHICAGO (AP)—A new kind of dry-storage eye bank is giving sight to 10 once-blinded humans.

They are seeing the world again through borrowed corneas or "windows" of the human eye. But these corneas were first dehydrated and then stored very simply for weeks or months.

Present eye banks can keep corneas in good shape under refrigeration for only a few days before they deteriorate. Blind patients sometimes spend expensive hospital stays until corneas, donated from dead persons, can reach them to try to restore sight.

Untold thousands of persons in this country and over the world are blind simply because their own corneas in the front of the eye have been clouded, scarred or damaged by disease or accident. Other thousands appear willing to donate their own eyes after death to help these blind.

THE NEW METHOD takes the water out of the cornea tissue, permitting storage in a test-tube, under vacuum, for months. Corneas presumably could be shipped anywhere needed.

The new technique, still in research stage, was described to the American Medical Assn. by Dr. John H. King Jr., associate professor of ophthalmology at Georgetown University Medical Center, Washington, D. C.

The dehydration method, without freezing, was developed in research at the Army Ocular Research Unit at Walter Reed Hospital, of which Dr. King was a member. He is a retired Army Medical Corps colonel.

Freeze-drying can preserve corneas for up to nine months. But they must be kept cold, and specially packaged for movement.

Simple drying offers great advantages. The watery fluid in the corneas is driven out or replaced by glycerin. Just before use, the cornea is soaked in a special salt solution, with normal watery fluids replacing the glycerin.

Ten persons have been given the dried-eye windows during the last three years, said Dr. King, who performed many of the transplants. All the windows are still clear. Some had been preserved for nine months.

Truce Inspection Teams Pulling Out
SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Pyongyang radio today announced the withdrawal of the four-power armistice inspection teams from North Korea.

An American source here said members of the truce team arrived this morning in Panmunjom, in the neutral zone.

The Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission ordered the withdrawal after the U. N. Command told the truce teams to get out of South Korea. The U. N. allies charged the Communist Czech and Polish truce inspectors were conspiring with the North Koreans in an effort to hide an arms buildup in violation of the truce.

Because the league was formally opening in Washington C. H., the games at Jeff and Bloomingburg went ahead with a minimum of formal ceremony. The Jeff parade highlighted the ceremonies there, while the first-ball duties at both places were left to the umpires.

All told, there are more than 300 boys on teams of three leagues—the Little League for boys of the 8-12-year-old bracket, the Babe Ruth League for boys of the 12-15-year-old level and the American Legion League for boys from 15 to 19 years old.

There are 12 teams (six in the majors and six in the minors) in the Little League, seven in the Babe Ruth League and the one Legion Junior team in the county.

Truman To Address Dem Convention

Nine Back After Week at Clifton

Tanned and healthy after a week at Camp Clifton, the nine Fayette County 4-H youngsters who participated in 4-H senior camp at Camp Clifton in Greene County are back home today.

The youngsters, along with associate county agent Phil Grover who accompanied them, were participants in the annual 4-H six-county district camp last week.

Special recognition for their co-operation and good camping spirit during the week was given to Rosalyn Marting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Marting and Dale Eddie Wilson, son of Mrs. Hazel Wilson. The two received 4-H emblems.

Only 18 campers out of a total of 160 were recognized with an emblem or higher award. Fayette County rated high, percentage-wise, to have two of its campers so honored.

More would have attended Senior Camp, Associated County Agent Grover said, if it were not for the fact that some 20 eligibles plan to assist at Junior Camp later this month.

"Not many older boys and girls are able to get away for two weeks in the same month," Grover observed.

During this week, Grover, Mrs. Jesse Crago, 4-H assistant and Jean Coll, advisor, are getting ready to conduct the Fayette County Junior Camp, set for June 18.

Speculation Seen Renewed On Another Term For Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's operation seemed certain today to touch off a month or more of renewed speculation about his candidacy for re-election despite claims from some Republicans that it makes no sense.

Several Democrats said they hope he sticks by his Feb. 29 decision to seek a second term, although most concede privately they think their chances would be better against another GOP candidate.

Several of Eisenhower's doctors said they see no reason for him to change his mind if he recovers as they anticipate.

Eisenhower's spokesman, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, brushed aside all political questions. "I have just one thought in mind, and that is to get the President of the United States out of the hospital," Hagerty said.

"In any event, it seemed likely that Eisenhower might reserve a final decision for the four to six weeks his doctors say will be required for full convalescence."

THE REV. Henry Armstrong, 43, former triple-crown boxing champion turned Baptist minister, is shown in Los Angeles General Hospital suffering from what doctors said may be a paralytic stroke. Armstrong had been in ill health for the past several weeks. (International)

SIX WEEKS will expire July 21, about a month before the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Eisenhower has said, with reference to his heart attack last Sept. 24, that if he ever feels he is not up to another term he will say so immediately.

His doctors have declared there is no connection between the heart attack and his new illness.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston specialist who was a consultant to Eisenhower after his heart attack, said the President "should be able to recover quite well and carry on normally."

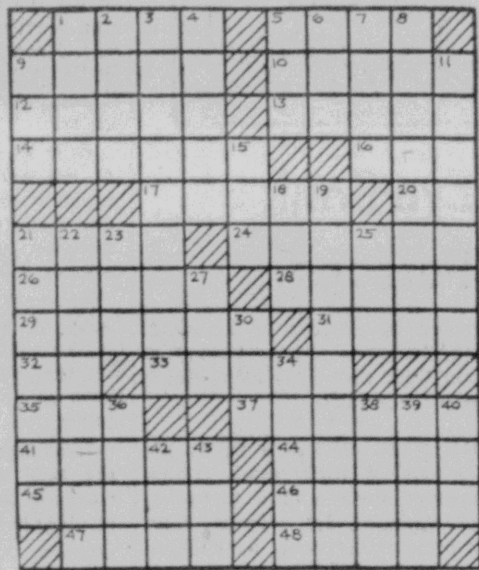

White talked to newsmen in Winston-Salem, N. C., where he went to make a speech after coming here to consult with other doctors before the operation on Eisenhower. He said "I believe this was, and will have proved to be, a temporary illness that does not need to change" Eisenhower's second-term decision.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who announced Saturday his active candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he sincerely hopes the doctors are correct in saying Eisenhower can run again. He said he does not think the operation "will have any influence" on the campaign.

Adlai E. Stevenson, also seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, said in Chicago he hopes Eisenhower recovers speedily. He said that in campaigning he will not stress Eisenhower's health "but only his conduct of office," and he added: "Of course, his health will have something to do with the conduct of the office."

Trustees Talk Of Hospital's Urgent Needs

Meeting Demands of Public Becoming A Problem, They Hear

A discussion of general plans, without any major decisions being made, with reference to meeting the future needs of Fayette County Memorial Hospital, occupied the principal attention of the board of trustees of the institution at its regular meeting Monday evening.

A rough preliminary layout of suggested changes in the main hospital building was up for attention. This was furnished by Architect Curtis Incho, of Columbus, with an idea of having hospital authorities, who had requested it, begin a study of what might be done at the least possible expense.

THE SKETCH presented also carried with it some supplemental plans for providing an addition for more rooms and beds at as early a date in the future as could be considered seriously, to meet increasing pressure for more rooms and new facilities for furnishing broader service to the community.

Only four of the board members were present, President Marilyn Riley, George Pensyl, H. P. Boylan and Mrs. Fern Chaffin. Miss Christene Evans, the administrator and Dr. Byers W. Shaw, representing the medical and surgical staff, were in attendance. Trustees Gene Smith and George Campbell were unavoidably absent.

Although the board and the advisory council at earlier meetings had decided that it would be inadvisable to seek a bond issue for general improvements this year, it became clear during Monday night's discussion that some less expensive changes were imminent of urgent importance to meet demands of the present.

HOW SUCH changes could be tied in with a later broader program, and possible ways of financing these first improvements, were talked over at length, but any definite decision was delayed.

Among the things to receive immediate attention was an agreement to have some of the awnings above windows in patients' rooms sent away for repair, but the matter of purchasing new awnings of a more permanent nature was held up until a special committee composed of Boylan and Smith could make a thorough investigation of various types of awnings on which price quotations had been received.

The needs for further air conditioning in the hospital was another topic discussed and it was decided that the committee which has been looking into this project, George Pensyl, Gene Smith and Howard Boylan, will make further inquiries.

THE MONTHLY report on hospital operations for May was submitted by the administrator Miss Evans.

It indicated normal business for the month and approximately normal financial income and outgo.

Total admissions for May were 265. In addition there were 39 new born infants in that period at the hospital. The number of outpatients for the month was unusually high, 401. These are patients given service but not requiring a room.

The total patient days for those in rooms were 1683, the high number on any day being 78 and the lowest any day being 40.

Major surgical operations numbered 51 and 80 minor operations were performed.

The hospital laundry 28,645 pounds of laundry for the month. Because of the rush in the laboratory and X-ray departments due to a temporarily short-handed force in those departments, the monthly report there had not been completed in time for the board meeting but will be presented later.

Meeting Thursday For Pomona Grange

Pomona Grange will hold its regular meeting at 8:30 P. M. Thursday in the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium. The fifth degree will be conferred for inspection and Madison Good Will Grange will serve refreshments.

All fifth degree members will be welcomed and those wishing to join Pomona are urged to contact a subordinate master. Grange leaders are reminding members of the current attendance contest and suggest that every effort be made to boost attendance scores.

Executive Committee Elected for Legion

A new executive committee today was ready to take over the administration of the Paul H. Hughes post of the American Legion here.

Eleven committeemen were chosen from among 20 candidates at Monday's annual post election. These eleven plus the retiring commander, Bill Marshall, will make up the 12-member executive committee.

The polls opened at Legion Hall at 4 P. M. and closed at 9 P. M.

After the votes were counted these Legionnaires were chosen to guide the destinies of the post for the ensuing year: Dr. John Richards, Lee Shonkwiler, Henry Litz, Francis Morgan, Paul Souther, Marion (Dutch) Rife, Charles Mallow, Hugh Gidding, Herbert E. Wilson, R. B. Tharp and Russell Whitely.

As in the past few years, the number of veterans of the second World War is increasing. However, there are still several of the older veterans on the committee. And, there enough with experience in Legion affairs to give the committee complete familiarity with general policies and procedures.

The executive committee is to meet within five days to elect from within its own membership the post officers, from the commander on through the administration.

The new commander will then fill three offices by appointment; he will name the service officer, sergeant-at-arms and chaplain. The installation date for the new officers has not yet been set definitely.

Funeral Is Held For Billy Blair

Funeral tributes were paid to Billy Blair at funeral services held at the Gerstner Funeral Home at 2 P. M. Monday.

Rev. Austin Merritt, pastor of the House of Prayer in Jeffersonville, who conducted the services, offered prayer, quoted from the Scriptures, delivered the funeral sermon and read a memoir.

Mrs. Kenneth Bonecuter sang "Massing Grace" and "Beyond the Sunset." Mrs. Marian Gage played the piano accompaniment.

Pallbearers, who also cared for the flowers, were Donald Burke, James Kibler, Robert Freeze, George Conger, Roger Picklesimer and Robert Picklesimer.

Final Tributes Paid Theodore E. Denney

Funeral services for Theodore E. Denney were conducted at the Gerstner Funeral Home at 3:30 P. M. Monday by Dr. Paul Elliott, pastor of McNair Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Elliott offered prayer, delivered the funeral sermon and read the Scriptures and the three hymns, "Take the Name of Jesus With You," "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and "Abide with Me."

The pallbearers, who also took care of the floral remembrances, were Joseph and Howard Hidy, Ralph and John Huff, Thomas Flynn and Donald Campbell.

Interment was in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

WCTU Observes Flower Mission

Program Presented At Childrens Home

Members of the Fayette County Women's Christian Temperance Union observed the Annual Flower Mission Day at the Fayette County Children's Home Sunday afternoon.

Entertainment, furnished by WCTU members and the children themselves, highlighted the program.

A poem, "To The Flag," by Mrs. Eldon Bethards, opened the program, followed by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," and the salute to the flag. Mrs. Leafy Edwards, the County WCTU president, conducted the opening ceremonies and Mrs. Tom Watts led in the devotions.

A recitation was given by Sue Ellen Stephenson the children of the home sang several numbers and Carlene Garret played a piano solo.

"Candle Message," a recitation, was done by Peggy Cook, the four Armbrust children sang a quartette number, and Patty Cook gave the recitation "A Secret."

Gil Garret entertained with a vocal solo, the Armbrust sisters presented a dialog and John Wood did an accordion solo. Julia Brunner gave a recitation, Eddie Curtin, gave a vocal solo and Mrs. Eldon Bethards did "He Walks With Us." The meeting closed with the WCTU benediction, after which the group members served a treat to the children.

Marilyn Writsel at 4-H Leadership Camp

Marilyn Writsel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Writsel, New Holland, Route 2, is representing Fayette County at the Ohio Junior Leadership Camp near Utica in Licking County, this week.

Close to 150 4-H club members from all over the state are in attendance at the camp.

The week is featuring instruction in song leading, camp counseling, recreation, and sports. Each day there will be crafts, vespers and campfires.

Considerable emphasis will be devoted to developing leadership to meet the world situation of today. This is the eleventh Ohio 4-H Junior Leadership Camp and it is sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service. To be selected for this camp is "quite an honor," according to Associate County Agent Phil Grover.

The camp closes following breakfast next Saturday morning.

Erect Guard Rail On Dayton Avenue

Work of erecting a guard rail along the south side of Oakland Avenue, from the Paint Creek Bridge to Millikan Avenue, was being completed Tuesday, at a cost of around $1,000.

The guard rail serves a two-fold purpose. It protects traffic by preventing vehicles from sliding over the embankment, and also protects those using the park along the street, particularly children who play in that area.

Boy, 2 Drowns In Freak Mishap

STEUBENVILLE (AP) — Two-year-old Louis Steffick Jr. drowned last night in a cistern at his home in nearby Smithfield.

The cistern had been covered with planks weighted down by rocks. Louis apparently had picked up a rock, dropped it and then was knocked into the cistern by a bouncing plank. His head was gashed.

New Dry-Storage Eye Bank Gives Sight To 10 Persons

CHICAGO (AP)—A new kind of dry-storage eye bank is giving sight to 10 once-blinded humans.

They are seeing the world again through borrowed corneas or "windows" of the human eye. But these corneas were first dehydrated and then stored very simply for weeks or months.

Present eye banks can keep corneas in good shape under refrigeration for only a few days before they deteriorate. Blind patients sometimes spend expensive hospital stays until corneas, donated from dead persons, can reach them to try to restore sight. Untold thousands of persons in this country and over the world are blind simply because their own corneas in the front of the eye have been clouded, scarred or damaged by disease or accident. Other thousands appear willing to donate their own eyes after death to help these blind.

THE NEW METHOD takes the water out of the cornea tissue, permitting storage in a test-tube, under vacuum, for months. Corneas presumably could be shipped anywhere needed.

The new technique, still in research stage, was described to the American Medical Assn. by Dr. John H. King Jr., associate professor of ophthalmology at Georgetown University Medical Center, Washington, D. C.

The dehydration method, without freezing, was developed in research at the Army Ocular Research Unit at Walter Reed Hospital, of which Dr. King was a member. He is a retired Army Medical Corps colonel.

Freeze-drying can preserve corneas for up to nine months. But they must be kept cold, and specially packaged for movement.

Simple drying offers great advantages. The watery fluid in the corneas is driven out or replaced by glycerin. Just before use, the cornea is soaked in a special salt solution, with normal water fluids replacing the glycerin.

Ten persons have been given the dried-eye windows during the last three years, said Dr. King, who performed many of the transplants. All the windows are still clear. Some had been preserved for nine months.

Truce Inspection Teams Pulling Out

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Pyongyang radio today announced the withdrawal of the four-power armistice inspection teams from North Korea.

An American source here said members of the truce team arrived this morning in Panmunjom, in the neutral zone.

The Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission ordered the withdrawal after the U. N. Command told the truce teams to get out of South Korea. The U. N. allies charged the Communist Czech and Polish truce inspectors were conspiring with the North Koreans in an effort to hide an arms buildup in violation of the truce.

Children Home From 4-H Camp

Nine Back After Week at Clifton

Tanned and healthy after a week at Camp Clifton, the nine Fayette County 4-H youngsters who participated in 4-H senior camp at Camp Clifton in Greene County are back home today.

The youngsters, along with associate county agent Phil Grover who accompanied them, were participants in the annual 4-H six-county district camp last week.

Special recognition for their cooperation and good camping spirit during the week was given to Rosalyn Marting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Marting and Dale Eddie Wilson, son of Mrs. Hazel Wilson. The two received 4-H emblems.

Only 18 campers out of a total of 160 were recognized with an emblem or higher award. Fayette County rated high, percentage-wise, to have two of its campers so honored.

More would have attended Senior Camp, Associated County Agent Grover said, if it were not for the fact that some 20 eligibles plan to assist at Junior Camp later this month.

"Not many older boys and girls are able to get away for two weeks in the same month," Grover observed.

During this week, Grover, Mrs. Jesse Crago, 4-H assistant and Jean Coil, advisor, are getting ready to conduct the Fayette County Junior Camp, set for June 18.

Truman To Address Dem Convention

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Truman will address the Democratic National Convention after the party's presidential nominee has been chosen.

Paul Butler, the Democratic National Chairman, announced that today and said that a place on the program was in accordance with Truman's wishes.

Butler said Truman didn't say why he wanted to take the platform after the nomination had been made. But Truman has said he is a neutral so far as a preference among the contenders for the nomination are concerned.
